Multiple sponsors for drainage considered

DRAINAGE MEETING in Madison yesterday gave government officials an opportunity to exchange views on possible solutions to water runoff problems in this area. Father Engelbert marks 50th year Pastor once glad, now sad, to leave Madison

Sleet and snow were falling and the streets of Madison were covered with ice when Father Engelbert Felix Bienek of the Franciscan order first set foot on the cinder sidewalks in February 1924.

Regardless of the weather, it will be a day of warmth Sunday at St. Mary's Catholic Church, where he will celebrate his 50th year as a priest. He has retired after serving as St. Mary's pastor for 36 years.

Now considerably frazier than the hearty appearance most Quad-Cities recall, Father Engelbert has resided since last July at The Colonades but still returns on occasion to participate in the services at St. Mary's.

Born 79 years ago in Laskonvitz, Poland, he came to America at the age of 14 on June 9, 1909, joining an uncle and brother in the U.S.

Over 500 priests, nuns, parishioners and friends will mark his 50th year in the priesthood by attending Mass at 3 p.m. Sunday at the church at Tenth Street and Alton Avenue. A 5 p.m. dinner and a reception afterward are planned for the Croatian Home, 1000 Madison Ave., Madison. Dinner tickets costing $2.50 are being sold in advance, and a capacity gathering is anticipated.

St. Mary's also is known as the Church of Our Lady of Czenstochowa after a shrine in Poland.

Father Engelbert recalls that his first night here was a lonely and cold evening.

The previous pastor had died and his main discussions were with the Breumner and Amend families and Sister Clemencia, principal of St. Mary's School; she is still alive and is celebrating her 90th birthday this year.

He sensed a need for reconciliation between Polish, Croatian and Irish parishioners and was able to achieve it by using "my Franciscan way of doing things." He says he avoided scolding, instead encouraging cooperation by emphasis on good will.

Problems continued to arise. The Quad-Cities were still in the Depression, with many men of the parish serving in the Works Progress Administration.

Fund-raising activities were launched and the parish was able to retire an existing $48,000 school building debt. Mrs. Esther Ulesmer, secretary at the rectory, aided him in analyzing financial needs.

With the new pastor surprising the parishioners with his knowledge of the language of Poland—occasionally he presented short sermons entirely in Polish—more and more Polish, Croatian and Slovak families became active.

While there were many Polish people, Madison seemed to have an even greater profusion of politicians.

He learned that Madison had a "permanent mayor" — Ferd Garesche, whose political allies included Police Chief Pat McCambridge. Voters favoring Garesche were taken to the polls but those trying to haul "anti" voters sometimes were arrested, he was told.

Also a Democratic state legislator, Mayor Garesche was often mentioned as being of gubernatorial timber.

The priest found he was able to get along with the mayor, whom he looks back on as an "influential man who could get jobs for people and helped them in many ways." Mr. Garesche was a member of St. Mary's parish.

Father Engelbert also has vivid memories of other powerful political figures, including Venice Township Supervisor Joseph Grenzer and Mayor Stephen Maeras, the latter leading the city for nearly three decades until his death several years ago.

"He did a lot for Madison," the priest says of Mayor Maeras. His recollections of the Maeras years include a number of patriotic activities during World War II.

Parish ladies collected money and materials to aid the war effort. Special attention was

Hagnauer heads study committee

A committee to advance plans for improved drainage in the Hillside Drainage area, including the Quad-Cities, was formed Wednesday by representatives of local governmental bodies meeting in the Madison Firemen's Hall.

Nelson Hagnauer, chairman of the Madison County Board, was selected to head the new committee and to appoint several other persons to serve. The aim of the committee is to find a local sponsor or sponsors for drainage programs.

The sponsor must obtain rights-of-way for drainage ditches and other facilities. Actual construction is to be done under supervision of the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers.

Louis Whitsell, Nameoki Township supervisor, called the meeting and invited the officials who attended.

He termed the group an intergovernmental body and commented that those present have the power necessary to see that drainage programs are put into effect.

"We need to attract attention. The rusty gate squeaks a lot and we are going to have to start squeaking if we are going to get oiled," Whitsell said.

"Hillside drainage is several years away," Whitsell said. This brought a reaction from City Clerk William "Mike" Ebersold of Venice, a trustee of the East Side Levee and Sanitary District, who said, "I don't think it will take that long if we push it."

Whitsell agreed, "If we push it in segments," he said.

Walter "Dick" Sparks, supervisor of Chouteau Township, commented that drainage problems in the Mitchell area should have first priority if Hillside Drainage is broken into segments.

He said Interstate 270 and railroads have formed "walls around the Mitchell area" which allow very little water to drain away from Mitchell.

He said the water flow from Mitchell formerly was to the northwest, toward the Mississippi River, but now is southeast, toward Long Lake.

"We should consider reversing the flow of water and returning it to the river rather than flooding Long Lake, Pontoon Beach, Horseshoe Lake and the Cahokia Canal with our water," Sparks commented.

Those present agreed that the Nameoki Ditch through Granite City to the Cahokia Canal is insufficient to handle water from areas proposed to be drained.

"Nameoki Ditch is just not enough. We need another ditch," commented Mrs. Helen Hawkins, a citizen residing in the Dobrey Slough area.

Sparks suggested construction of several smaller ditches leading directly west to the Mississippi River from

Walter White killed today

Walter Wayne White, 42, of 2126 Dewey Ave., was killed at 2:45 a.m. today when his car, southbound on Route 3, crashed into the last car of a freight train on the Illinois Terminal Railroad tracks near the A. O. Smith Corp. plant.

The auto, a four-door hardtop model, was driven half-way under the empty railroad flat car and was dragged 100 feet down the tracks.

Authorities said the impact tore off the auto log, which was dropped at the crossing.

Mr. White was pronounced dead at the scene by Madison County Deputy Coroner Edward Werner.

The Granite City Fire Department sent equipment to the scene, but the gasoline tank did not rupture and there was no fire.

Gary Forslaw of Edwardsville was engineer and Cyrell Jacobs of 2620 Highway 3 was conductor of the train. Witnesses said the crossing lights were flashing at the time of the accident.

Mr. White, an ironworker, recently returned to Granite City from San Luis Obispo, Calif., where he had been working on a construction job. He was a native of Granite City.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Patricia White, and four children, Kevin, Randy, Rodena and Karen, who had been living in British Columbia, Canada, while Mr. White was working in California.

Mr. White also leaves two brothers, Gracie and Jodie White, both of Granite City; four sisters, Mrs. Edna (Robert) Rowlett of Granite City, Mrs. Don (Sarena) Gardner of South Bend, Ind., Mrs. Steve (Charlotte) Rodgers of Springfield, Ill., and Mrs. Dave Westlake, Horseshoe Head, N. Y., and his mother, Mrs. Rosie B. White of Granite City.

Funeral arrangements are given in today's obituary column.

Second Venice mayor aspirant

A second candidate for election as mayor of Venice in special balloting April 16 filed nominating petitions this week shortly before the deadline for filing.

He is Lennil L. Johnson, 204 Viola Jones Homes, Venice, an employee of the United Parcel Service and a resident of Venice for 20 years. Johnson is 29.

Johnson will oppose William "Mike" Ebersold, incumbent city clerk of Venice who filed as a candidate in early January.

Johnson filed his petition Monday, the last day for filing in the special election. Candidates have until noon Saturday to withdraw if either desires to do so. Following expiration of the withdrawal deadline, ballots will be printed and other arrangements made for the special balloting.

Three years of the mayoralty term of the late Dr. Lee remains. Dr. Lee, who had been mayor of Venice since 1957, died Nov. 30, 12 days after he was stricken with a cerebral hemorrhage.

Ebersold, a close associate of Dr. Lee, has said he is seeking the mayoralty post to seek accomplishment of the plans and programs instituted by the late mayor.

Johnson, who filed as an independent candidate, said he wanted to clear up any misunderstanding of racial implications in his candidacy.

Flood insurance Board subject

Documents necessary to qualify Pontoon Beach residents for flood insurance are scheduled for action in tonight's regular meeting of the Pontoon Beach Village Board.

Board members also are expected to act on a veto by Mayor Floyd David Moss of a board action authorizing the purchase of a radar gun for the Police Department. The purchase was approved in a special board meeting during the weekend, but was vetoed by the mayor.

During the special meeting the board also approved employment of John Nolan, a former Pontoon Beach patrolman, as a temporary police officer to serve while Patrolman Mike Goodman completes a training course at Belleville Area College.

Pleads guilty in theft case

Earnest Lee Rodriguez of St. Louis pleaded guilty in Madison County Circuit Court at Edwardsville to charges of burglary and theft. Sentencing was set for March 20 before Circuit Judge John Gitchoff.

Rodriguez stole a car from H&R Auto Sales on Broadway in Venice Nov. 14, 1973, and burglarized the home of Richard Krause, 1030 Third St., Venice, Jan. 5.

A burglary charge against David Riggs, 17, of 2025 Dawn Place, was dismissed by the court with leave for the state's attorney's office to reinstate the charge. A possession of cannabis charge against Vernon Hill, 28, of Lebanon, was dismissed. He was arrested in Venice July 7, 1973.

Extra hours for license sales

Because of the Friday mid-night deadline for displaying 1974 auto license plates, Granite City banks will remain open from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. Friday for sale of plates only.

The banks, Granite City Trust and Savings, First Granite City National and the American National, normally close from 1 to 4 p.m. on Fridays, reopening for business from 4 to 7 p.m.

These closing hours will be observed for regular banking business during the 1 to 4 p.m. period Friday, with operations limited to the sale of license plates during those three hours, bank officials said.

Drainage route proposed

Drainage problems in the Parkview Estates area of Nameoki Township again dominated the discussion at the Town Board meeting Monday night.

Louis Whitsell, township supervisor, reviewed progress which has been made in the area, noting the Alton & Southern Railroad has cleaned most culverts under the tracks so water now is flowing to the east side of the tracks, but still is being stopped on farm land there.

Albert Bell, highway commissioner, and Eugene Gargac, auditor, are to meet with farmers to ask them to allow the water to flow across their land into Bishop Slough. In this way, standing water in both the Parkview Estates and Wilshire subdivisions will be relieved, Whitsell said.

The board received copies of specifications for expanding and remodeling the town hall and invited contractors to obtain the specifications for bidding. Bids will be open by the board March 11.

An opinion was read from William Schooley, township attorney, indicating that money may be borrowed from the federal revenue sharing fund for other township funds.

Police probe shooting

Granite City police are investigating circumstances surrounding the shooting of a 38-year-old man, Larry Rutter, 18, of 2113 Delmar Ave., was admitted to St. Elizabeth Hospital after he said three men beat him with a tire iron in a field near 28th Street and Missouri Avenue at 1:25 a.m. Wednesday. He suffered injuries to his ribs and a contusion to the left side of his jaw.

Lampson walked into the emergency room at St. Elizabeth Hospital with a gunshot wound to the lower right side of his chest. A police officer questioned him at the hospital said Lampson related he was driving to St. Elizabeth Hospital to visit his wife and become lost on Nameoki Road. He said he providing the money is repaid with interest equal to that offered by banks.

The board agreed to transfer $5,000 from revenue sharing for the general assistance fund, to be repaid at 5 per cent interest. A letter from Douglas Teeter informed the board that no additional bonds are required for Whitsell. He said in addition to his regular supervisor's bond, Whitsell has a bond on file with the county clerk for road funds he handles. Teeter had been requested at the last board meeting to investigate whether a Whitsell's bond was sufficient for the amount of township money he controlled.

turned toward what he believed was an interstate highway and got out of his car. Some boys in a tree yelled at him and then he was shot, he related. Lampson said he left his car and crawled to a highway where someone picked him up and took him to the hospital emergency entrance where they left him.

Madison County sheriff's deputies found Lampson's car along Slough Road later Tuesday.

Lampson was admitted to the intensive care unit of the hospital but was transferred Wednesday to a regular hospital room.

Banks, offices close Monday

Washington's birth date is Feb. 22.

Public and parochial schools along with city offices will be closed. Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will be closed.

Operatic singers advance

Four young singers were selected to enter the Metropolitan Opera National Council semifinals and finals in Chicago Feb. 25-26. The four were selected after district auditions held at SIUC during the weekend.

First place winner was David J. Gordon, tenor, of Stone Harbor, N. J., a student of Prof. Dale Moore at SIUC.

Second place went to Steven D. Drakulich, tenor, a student of Mary Elaine Wallace at SIUC. Drakulich is from Boise, Idaho. Alex Montgomery of Springfield, Ky., a student of Burt Kageff at SIUC, placed third. He is a bass-baritone.

Three are usually chosen in the competition but the singing of Rebecca Seigler, soprano, a student of Marjane Marvin at SIUC, was so pleasing to the judges that she also was chosen to participate in the Chicago competition. Miss Seigler is from Centralia.

Cash awards were given.

The awards were presented by Mrs. Maurice Dailey of Granite City, a past president of the SIUC Friends of Music, co-sponsors with the SIUC music department of the auditions at the local campus.

The first-place winner in regional finals at Chicago will be sent to New York to compete in national semifinals March 10-24. The central region winner and winners of the other 13 regions will audition before the general manager of the Metropolitan Opera and his staff on the stage of the Met Opera House.

The 20 singers competing included Miss Deborah Kay Hightower and Paul Edward Mabrey. Both reside in Granite City and are students of Prof. Dale Moore at SIUC. Mabrey is a baritone and Miss Hightower is a soprano.

Burditt is speaker for Lincoln dinner

U. S. Sen. Charles H. Percy purposely stayed away from Springfield during traditional Lincoln's birthday activities.

He wanted the political spotlight to focus on George M. Burditt, 51, still the virtually unknown choice of the Illinois Republican leadership to oppose Democratic U. S. Sen. Adlai E. Stevenson, who bears a household name.

The problem facing Burditt and the GOP is to inform voters who are running against Stevenson.

Lincoln's birthday, which brought the Republican faithful together in the capital city to pay honor to the party's and the state's greatest son, provided an opportunity to bring Burditt some badly needed publicity.

It was delicately made known to Percy that were he to be on hand Burditt would inevitably be pushed to the back as far as news attention was concerned.

The main topic would have been Percy's steadily intensifying bid for the 1976 GOP presidential nomination. There would also have been comments sought on current national issues like the energy crisis, Watergate and a potential diplomatic reconciliation with Cuba's Fidel Castro.

With Percy, taking the spotlight Burditt would have come to Springfield and left virtually unnoticed. But with Percy confining his Lincoln Day activities to Peoria and Rock Island—and a Democrat rather than a Republican occupying the governor's mansion—Burditt as the candidate for U. S. senator received top attention.

He was given a forum to take issue with Stevenson, who has been making many Illinois front pages regularly with moves and comments on the energy crisis, including the gasoline shortage, an especially touchy issue in the Chicago metropolitan area.

Burditt, a likeable person to those who know him from his days in the legislature, faces a perhaps impossible task not only in combatting the Stevenson name, but in overcoming the advantage that automatically accrues to an incumbent U. S. senator.

Stevenson has quietly developed some practical political skills and talents that might well have astonished as well as impressed his late father, the 1948-52 governor and later ambassador to the United Nations.

Percy voluntarily relinquishing the Lincoln spotlight to Burditt had some benefits for the senator, also. By doing so, he built good will

Toastmasters set meetings

The Goodfellows Toastmasters Club 1667 is now conducting meetings each second and fourth Monday at 7 p.m. at Temple's Smorgasbord. It was announced this week.

The Toastmasters Communication and Leadership program presents speaking projects together with reading plans, self evaluation guides and instructions for offering and receiving constructive guidance and leadership plans, according to Steve Gargac. The club also offers opportunities for impromptu speaking and permits members to learn not only by speaking but by observing fellow members, Gargac said.

Those interested in attending the sessions may call Gargac at 677-3156 or attend the sessions, he said.

with Illinois Republican leaders.

They might remember in two years from now when Percy will be working hard to line up a friendly and strong home state delegation to the national convention.

Like Adlai Stevenson, Chuck Percy also has come a long way in learning the practical lessons of politics, observers say.

Final voter registration

A final series of special voter registration periods in which newly qualified voters may register to vote in the March 19 primary election will be held in the QuadCity area during the weekend. The centers will be conducted by deputies of the office of County Clerk Eulalia Holz.

Tuesday is the deadline for registration of voters wishing to vote in the primary election.

Weekend registration periods will include: Granite City Trust and Savings Bank from 4 to 7 p.m. Friday; Schermer's Market, 12th Street and Madison Avenue, 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Saturday; Brandy's Market, 317 East Chain of Rocks Road, Mitchell, 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Saturday.

A&J Market, 4065 Pontoon Road, 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday; Bakos Hardware, Route 40, State Park Place, 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday.

Special registration also is to be conducted at the Venice High School Tuesday from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. to qualify voters for balloting in the primary. Similar registration periods were held over the last two weeks in the Granite City and Madison High Schools to register 18-year-old voters.

Deadline for registering voters who plan to cast ballots in the March primary originally was set for Monday, but was extended one day because Monday will be a holiday in observance of Washington's birthday.

Students to walk on field trip

A group of 11 vocational students of Granite City High Schools North and South will join tomorrow in an inspection tour of Granite City Steel Co., and at the same time will do something about the energy crisis.

Instead of riding in buses as usual when taking field trips, the group will walk to the steel plant from South high school.

Max Forbes, vocational electricity instructor at GCHS-S, who organized the tour, said the students will leave South high school shortly after 8 a.m. and expect to reach the steel plant in time for the scheduled tour at 9 a.m.

After a luncheon, the students will walk to the Illinois Power Co. service building at 22nd and Adams streets for an inspection of facilities there.

MEET ON RECYCLING

An environmental recycling seminar is set for 9:30 a.m. Friday at the Illinois Transportation Department administration building, 2200 S. 31st St., Springfield.

Seven varsity cage games on tap

Seven high school cage contests are on tap this weekend, including four here. Action begins with a Southwestern Conference clash tomorrow between conference leader Collinsville and GCHS South at 8 p.m. at the South gym.

GCHS North will travel to Quincy at 8 p.m. tomorrow to meet the Catholic Boys'. Brooklyn will visit Madison High at 4 p.m., and Summer of St. Louis will attempt to topple Venice here, in an 8 p.m. contest.

Saturday, the South Warriors will attempt to avenge an early season overtime loss to the Comanches at Cahokia, North will play Teutopolis, Ill., at South's gym, and Venice will take to the road to meet Marquette of Alton. All games have 8 p.m. starting times.

South fell to 0-17 in the season after dropping two contests this past weekend, 62-30 to Belleville West and 74-61 at Belleville East.

Collinsville, with a 17-3 record (9-1 in conference play) won its two weekend contests, 57-54 over East St. Louis Friday and 91-74 over Herrin Saturday. In the latter contest Collinsville Kahok Marc Fletcher scored 35 points and teammate Dan Hayes tallied 24. Fletcher, a 6-4 senior, has been averaging 28.1 points per game and Hayes, at 6-5, is averaging 17.8 points an outing. The Kahok squad had defeated the Warriors 63-46 last month at Collinsville.

Win or lose against Collinsville tomorrow, South is fired up to avenge its 74-72 double overtime loss last month at the hands of Cahokia when the Warriors meet the Comanches on the enemy's court Saturday.

Cahokia, 2-16, lost its most recent contests this past weekend, 90-73 to Edwardsville and 55-45 to East St. Louis. Comanche sophomore Gerald Washington tallied 24 points in the first contest. Washington had scored 21 points last month in defeating the South Warriors.

The Steelers of GCHS North, now 10-7 after losing this past weekend 71-65 in overtime to Belleville West, are scheduled for two games, at Quincy tomorrow and here Saturday against Teutopolis.

Quincy Catholic Boys' barely squeezed by GCHS South in December, 55-51, and most recently lost 62-52 to Belleville East Friday. Quincy's Stan Miller was highpoint maker in the latter contest with 16 points.

Teutopolis is considered to be a young ballclub from a Class A size school which boasts four juniors and one sophomore, but always has had a competitive team. The Eastern Illinois squad this weekend suffered an 86-64 defeat at the hands of Stew-Stras High School.

The Madison High School Trojans challenge neighboring Brooklyn on the Trojans' home court.

Madison added victim number 16 this past weekend in downing Neoga (Ill.) 70-50. The Trojans traveled to Lebanon Tuesday. Results of that game are given elsewhere in today's paper.

Brooklyn fell to 11-8 during the weekend after losing 81-72 to East St. Louis Lincoln. Brooklyn held a 34-29 half-time advantage before Lincoln's zone press took its effect in the final two quarters.

Brooklyn's normal high score, Ellsworth Wellmaker, was held to 13 points for the Wildcats against Lincoln. The 6-5 senior had been averaging 19.2 points per game. Keith Caldwell, a 6-2 sophomore, led Brooklyn with 21 points in the contest.

All-Stater Ron Henry will lead the Venice attack into double-action this weekend in the Red Devil's quest of consecutive victories. Venice was at Valmeyer in a cage contest Tuesday. Results of that game are given elsewhere in today's paper.

The local Devils will travel North to Marquette High of Alton Saturday. The Alton cagers now have a record of 8-12 after losing two contests during the weekend, 96-73 to Raymond-Lincolnwood and 70-57 to Marissa. Marquette's top scorer in the first game was Mike Cunningham with 21, while teammate Joe Don-danville had 18 points, including 14 in the second half. Don-danville tallied 17 points to take high scorer honors in Marquette's contest with Marissa.

Watson enters skating event

Keith Watson, 14, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Ron "Hook" Watson of 2553 Benton St., will compete Saturday and Sunday in the 1974 Southwest Open Indoor Speed Skating Championship which begins at 1 p.m. each day at the Arena at St. Louis.

The youngster lost his bid as a repeat Missouri state champion this week when he was knocked down in the finals after skating to victory in the 220, 440 and 880 yard heat races at the Clayton, Mo., Ice Rink.

A seventh grade student at Coolidge Junior High School, the youth began his skating career three years ago with the Gateway Speed Skating Club and went on to capture the Missouri State Championship in his first year of competition.

Presently leading the point standings in the St. Louis City Ice Skating Association, he has skated thus far this year in Chicago, Madison and Milwaukee, Wis., where he placed third in his class. He most recently skated to first place at Jefferson City, Mo., earning two medals and a first place trophy.

Watson will compete in the junior division for 14 and 15-year-olds this weekend. The program is part of the two-day Silver Skates event which got its start in 1926 and is considered to be the oldest athletic event in the city of St. Louis.

CLAY IS CHAMP
 Cassius Clay, 22, of Louisville, Ky., won the world heavyweight boxing championship in Miami over Sonny Liston on Feb. 25, 1964.

Firemen-police basketball game

The second annual Granite City Police vs. Granite City Firemen benefit basketball game will be held Wednesday, Feb. 20, at 7:30 p.m. at the GCHS South gymnasium.

Highlighting the cage contest will be the appearances of a Tri-City Shrine Club clown and an escape artist, Harry Monti of St. Louis.

The Shrine clown will present children with special badges while Monti attempts to extricate himself from a straitjacket while suspended in mid-air.

Donations of $1 per person at the door will be contributed to the Officer Friendly Athletic Club Fund.

Cheerleading clinic March 2 at Althoff

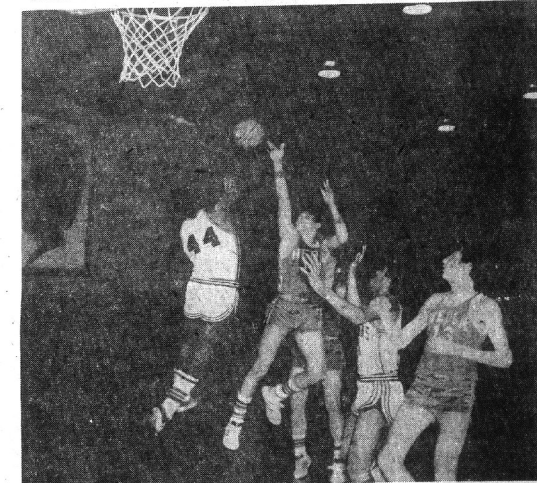

A gymnastics for cheerleading one-day clinic, hosted by the National Cheerleading Association, will be held Saturday, March 2, at Belleville Althoff High School with registration starting at 8:30 a.m. and instructions concluding at 4 p.m.

The clinic will feature instructions by Texas gymnast Gillmore Williams and other NCA instructors.

All varsity, jayvee, and junior high cheerleaders are invited to attend the event. A $5 per person fee is required at time of registration.

STEELER TEAMWORK was displayed here Saturday when Mike Waldo (34) recovered a missed shot and passed the ball back to Dave Schnefke (50) for a basket. West's Bill Schmidt (foreground) and Joe Holtgrewe (41) appear confused by the play. Behind Holtgrewe are Maroon Milton Wiley and Steeler Daryl Page. Belleville defeated North 71-65 in overtime. (Press-Record Photo)

North, South wrestlers prepare for district meet

By KEN THOMPSON
Press-Record Sports Writer

A period of triumphs, frustrations, and rivalry ended this week for both Granite City High School South and North as the regular season wrestling competition came to an end.

Both now are looking toward this weekend's district tournament at Roxana, and the sectional meet next week at GCHS South.

The South Warriors finished their dual meet season with a 19-2 record, having lost to Belleville East and Pekin. They also earned two tournament titles at the South Holiday Tournament and Southwestern Conference Tournament.

North's Steelers ended their dual meet competition with a 11-3 record, having been defeated by Mundelein-Carmel, GCHS South and Belleville East. North captured third place here in the Holiday Tournament and runner-up honors in the Quincy tourney.

The Steelers' final dual meet of the 1973-74 season ended Tuesday on a losing note, 29-12, at the hands of undefeated Belleville East on the Lancers' home mats.

North captured only three of the 12 matches at East and wrestled to a draw in one other bout. The contest produced only one fall.

Steeler results in that meet by weight class were: 98 pound—Randy Hartline, lost 3-2; 105—Neil Pierson, lost 6-3; 112—Rudy Fyle, won 11-0; 119—Eric Schmitzer, won 11-0; 126—Jim Starling, lost 4-3; 138—Terry Johnson, lost 4-3; 145—Dave Whitsett, lost 9-1; 167—Dave Hamilton, lost 6-2; 185—Jim Barker, lost 9-0; and heavyweight—John McMillon, won 4-2.

"We had a couple of matches," remarked Coach Walt Whitaker, "that could have gone either way."

"A good example," he continued, "was Carr's match with Bob Baldwin in the 145 class."

Carr was leading on points, 3-0, before being pinned with one second left in the second period.

Speculating on this weekend's district meet, the Steeler mentor told the Press-Record: "There's going to be a lot of pressure on us. Other than South, Roxana and Wood River both deserve a lot of respect."

"Both schools have four or five pretty good wrestlers," he said, "scattered throughout their weight classes, but I feel we are going to place several of our boys into the sectional, and maybe even the state finals," he concluded.

Steeler wrestlers (with season records and team points earned indicated) who are likely to see action this weekend are: Hartline, 19-4, 74½ points; Pierson, 11-7, 51; Fyle, 20-0, 80; Schmitzer, 8-5, 22; Starling, 27, 17; Fetter, 13-8, 39; Johnson, 11-6, 43; either Carr, 11-4, 38, or John Hankins, 6-3, 20; Whitsett, 6-17; Hamilton, 8-12, 26½; Barker, 2-15, 11; and McMillon, 19-4, 81.

The South Warriors enter the district competition fresh from capturing their 16th consecutive Southwestern Conference championship this past weekend. The Warriors racked up 105 team points and produced seven individual champions in taking the title over second place Belleville East.

Emerging as champions in the conference meet at Edwardsville (with the tournament wins indicated) were: 105—Jim Caschetta, bye, 10-6, 4-2; 119—John Niebur, 1-43, 14-0; 126—Don Heath, 5-0, 10-3, 2-1; 132—Dan Heath, 2-28, 9-0, 1-0; 138—Don Hasty, 2-31, 4-0, 3-2; 145—Dave Rushing, 8-4, 5-23, 3-2; and 155—Brian Wilson, bye, 20-1, 6-4.

Other Warrior wrestlers who placed in the meet were: 98—Woody Halbrook, second, 4-0, 6-5; 105—112—Phil Lapinski, second, 18-2, 18-8; 126—132—Dan Heath, third, 5-0, 10-3; 138—145—Chuck Cobb, fourth, 10-10, won 3-2 and lost 9-1.

The Warriors will be going after their 17th consecutive district title in the two day meet at Roxana, beginning tomorrow.

"We should win," said Coach William Schmitt, "barring any more illness."

Right now, the flu bug is a big problem. Our heavyweight Jerry Patterson and our 112 pounder Lapinski are both battling it.

The head mentor stated that if more of his wrestlers contract it, the letter B indicating returning district class champions) are:

98—Woody Halbrook, 22-3-1, 106 points; 105—Steve Garland, 14-0-0, 54, or Caschetta, 7-2-0, 33; 112—(R) Lapinski 2-2, nine, or (R) Pat MacMillan, 22-3, 84½; 119—Kevin Page, 15-1-1, 65; 126—(R) Niebur, 30-0, 112; 132—Don Heath, 28-2, 118½; 138—(R) Dan Heath, 22-5, 0, 93, or Hasty, 7-4-1, 20; 145—(R) Rushing, 24-4-1, 95; 155—

Mississippi Valley Conference title and North has a more intense desire to beat us than anyone else.

"Let's not rule out Highland or Bethalto either," he speculated. "Each have some good individuals."

Warrior matmen expected to compete this year (with season records and team points earned, and the letter B indicating returning district class champions) are:

98—Woody Halbrook, 22-3-1, 106 points; 105—Steve Garland, 14-0-0, 54, or Caschetta, 7-2-0, 33; 112—(R) Lapinski 2-2, nine, or (R) Pat MacMillan, 22-3, 84½; 119—Kevin Page, 15-1-1, 65; 126—(R) Niebur, 30-0, 112; 132—Don Heath, 28-2, 118½; 138—(R) Dan Heath, 22-5, 0, 93, or Hasty, 7-4-1, 20; 145—(R) Rushing, 24-4-1, 95; 155—

Other than schools already mentioned, Alton, Collinsville and Edwardsville will compete in the tournament at Roxana. First round action gets underway at 6 p.m. tomorrow, continuing at 1 p.m. Saturday. The event will conclude with the championship rounds Saturday, beginning at 7 p.m.

Successful matmen from the meet, and from district meet at Belleville West, Murphysboro and Jacksonville, will vie in the GCHS South Sectional Feb. 22-23.

Lebanon tames Trojan strength

Napoleon met his Waterloo, and Tuesday night the Madison High School cage Trojans met their Lebanon. The local squad fell, 63-75, at Lebanon to the newly crowned Cahokia Cage Conference champions.

Lebanon holds a 19-2 record. Madison fell to 16-7.

"We pressed all the way," said Trojan Coach Larry Graham, "but they ran right through it. We just couldn't get our defensive press operating properly."

Lebanon led the contest in every period, 16-13, 35-28, 62-34 and the final score, on 33 field goals and 17 of 24 from the foul line. The host school committed 24 fouls, pulled down 35 rebounds and turned the ball over to Madison 36 times. Bob Burns scored 22 points for Lebanon with 18 points before fouling out late in the fourth quarter.

"We were taking too many outside shots and missing," said Graham, "whereas Lebanon was connecting on baskets from outside."

Madison shot 45 per cent from the field, 28 of 67, and hit 19 of 32 from the free throw line. The Trojans recovered 30 rebounds, 21 of their own, and turned the ball over to Lebanon only 18 times while committing 21 errors.

Chris Stanley led Madison's scoring effort with 25 points. Ron Glasper had 14, Jon Henke 13, Alvin Wigfall, Darryl Franklin, and Kelvin Boyd each scored seven, and Norman Whitecotton posted two points. The Madison jayvee squad fared better than its varsity counterpart, downing Lebanon 21-58, including the 24 points of Trojan Mike Stanley.

Madison will play host to Brooklyn at 4 p.m. Friday.

West controls South cagers

Warrior freshman Dave Rhodes scored 22 points, 19 in the first half, against Belleville East, but the local freshmen cagers still lost 43-36. GCHS South sophomores dropped a 32-35 decision to the Cahokia visitors the same day.

West overcame a 10-9 first period deficit in the sophomore contest to outscore South in the remaining quarters, 23-21, 38-20 and 32-35. Scoring for the Warriors were Paul McCravin, Frank Holmes and Steve Lawrence, eight apiece; Jeff Herring and Rhodes, five apiece; and Paul Evans had one point.

In the freshman game, South lost its chance of winning by losing five points in the final period after leading the enemy at the end of each of the first three quarters, 15-10, 27-20 and 31-30. Other than the 32 points made by Rhodes, Warrior pointmakers were Paul Evans with five and Paul Anderson adding three.

Falter in race

Seventeen-year old Glenn Falter, Granite City, will be seeking a win tonight at Archview Stadium near Belleville after having lost his second consecutive 300cc motorcycle racing event at the hands of Chris Reitz of Montgomery City, Mo., last week.

Two weeks ago Reitz snapped a nine race winning streak of the local racer. The American Motorcycle Association sanctioned racing events will get off the starting line at 8 p.m.

Hockey squad holding 4th

With only two weekends of competition remaining on the MacClair High School Hockey League schedule, the Granite City squad is struggling to finish the season in the number four spot in league standings.

The local squad, since losing 4-1 to Collinsville this past weekend, now is 4-9 and could fall further in the standings if they should lose tomorrow to last place Belleville. The two squads meet on the ice at 10:30 p.m. in the first of three contests at the Wilson Park Ice Rink.

Collinsville, 3-10 in fifth position, will clash with undefeated Alton at 11:45 p.m. tomorrow. Alton, during the weekend downed Wood River 3-1 to clinch the association championship.

At 1:10 a.m. Saturday, third place Wood River will square off at the local ice rink against Assumption of East St. Louis. Assumption assured itself of a second place season finish during the weekend with a 6-2 victory over Belleville.

GC Steel Women hear club's origin

By VALERIE EVENEDEN
Press-Record Staff Writer
For an informal beginning in June 1959, the Granite City Steel Women's Association has developed into an active 125 member organization, whose membership includes women from most departments at the local steel plant.

Formation of the club and its past activities were reviewed Tuesday evening at the association's February dinner meeting in the GCS General Office Building cafeteria. A six o'clock party was served at tables reflecting a Valentine's Day theme.

Red candles and placecards decorated with Valentine hearts were among the dinner table appointments, while balloons and large lace hearts were suspended from wall fixtures. The head table was centered with red roses and tall red tapers.

Mrs. Peggy Solberger, vice-president, introduced Mrs. Verna Lengyel, program chairman, who presented a short resume of the association's origin.

She reported that 50 women attended the initial meeting in the Foreman's Dining Room on June 15, 1959.

Two informal sessions quickly followed on successive days when participants discussed bylaws, selected a club name and started planning future programs.

Mrs. Lengyel noted that the first dinner meeting took place Sept. 15, 1960, with Lybarger and Mrs. Marjorie Burkhardt.

Games were played for entertainment under the direction of the program committee, consisting of Ruth Rami, Dorothy Born, Nellie Dieker, Kathleen Murphy, Mary Selph and Nancy Bugg.

Those excelling and winning awards were Joan Baskin, Paul Maud, Evelyn Maxwell, Tina Zimmerman, Olga McMurry, Myrtle Zabel, Olga Niekovich, Helen Green, Ruby Streiber, Elaine Favier, Joyce Harris, Mildred Clements, and Gladys Zimmmerman and Marge Burkhardt.

The floral centerpiece was awarded to Mrs. Dorothy Green.

Mrs. Solberger announced the Irish Dancers of East St. Louis will perform for the association at its March dinner.

Mrs. Florence Portell was named chairman of the event.

Thorngate members exchange jewelry

An impromptu exchange sale of costume jewelry, with the proceeds donated to the club treasury highlighted a meeting of the Thorngate Garden Club held Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Helen Polley, 2664 Iowa St.

The hostess served a dessert luncheon at tables attractively appointed in a red and white Valentine's Day theme.

Mrs. Betty King, president, conducted a lengthy business session. Tentative plans were made for a future visit and tour of the Madison County Historical Museum at Edwardsville.

Responding to roll call were Mesdames Marilyn Deatherage, Lillian Delp, Wanda Kincaid, Beulah Miller, Caroline Moser, Patricia Polley, Clara Schilling, Pearl Young and Miss Jean Bethel.

Beta Sigma Phi dance Saturday

The City Council of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority will sponsor an annual benefit Valentine Ball on Saturday evening at the Granite City Army Installation.

A buffet dinner and dance will commence at 6:30 p.m. Music for dancing will be furnished by Duke Dudley and his trio. Proceeds from the ball will be donated to charity.

Highlighting the occasion will be the selection of a Valentine Queen from five candidates nominated by local Beta Sigma Phi chapters.

The candidates are: Mrs. Julia Jennelle Gates, Theta; Mrs. Cheryl Gibson, Phi; Mrs. Shirley Farmley, Nu; Miss Iveta Humphrey, Zeta; Mrs. Onnalee Jane Laule, Xi Epsilon Chi.

FREE BOY'S ARM
Herbie Boker, 10, of 3241 Wenden Ave., was rescued by a Granite City Fire Department rescue unit after the boy's left arm became lodged in a brake hubcap at his home at 2:55 p.m. Tuesday. Firemen used a pry bar to free the boy's arm. He was not injured.

Pastor

given to needy families whose breadwinners were serving in the armed forces. Members of St. Mary's were killed and hurt overseas. I tried my best to console the families of the dead and injured," he relates.

There are happier memories, including his joy in hunting and fishing, even as a boy. He liked to go with parishioners and their dogs to hunt quail or to trail rabbits.

"One time we were hunting in Wyoming, and at first we didn't have any luck and were ready to come home. But a snowstorm had caused all the deer to come to a ravine.

"As I shot at a deer, another came walking by and I got them both with the same shot."

Father Engelbert, originally had thoughts of joining his uncle in the furniture manufacturing business but instead became a priest in 1924 after being vocationed at the age of 22 on June 1, 1917, at St. Joseph's College, Teutopolis, Ill. He had begun his schooling for the priesthood at Teutopolis in 1911.

He conducted his first Mass at Sacred Heart Church in St. Paul, Minn., in 1924, and served as pastor in two Michigan cities beginning in 1925.

After being assigned in 1933 as pastor of St. Francis Church in Oakville, Mo., he moved next to St. Anthony's in St. Louis in 1935. In 1935, bishop visited St. Anthony's and inquired whether there were any Polish-speaking priests.

When Father Engelbert acknowledged such ability, he was sent several times to Madison to aid the pastor, a priest he recalls as a "fiery Irishman."

The church was located in the same building as the school and there were no such luxuries as air-conditioning.

"I remember how terribly hot the church was in summer. About the third time I came to Madison, I was really exhausted from the heat and the problems."

"I had to walk about four blocks to State Street to catch the street car back to St. Louis. In the middle of my walk, I stopped, turned around and looked at the rectory and church."

"I thought to myself that of all the places in the United States, I hoped I would never land in a place like this," he recalls now with a smile.

He found he was formally appointed to serve here starting Feb. 3, 1936, his outlook changed and "I found the town and the people very cooperative. I learned to love Madison."

What were his reasons for entering the priesthood?

He responded as follows in a biographical interview with William L. Gushiet:

"First of all, I had a good mother who motivated me to think religiously. I also had a very pious aunt in Europe who encouraged me to consider becoming a priest."

When I arrived in the United States, I tried to become a barber, but I was dissatisfied with cutting hair.

"I had a good brother who talked to me about my future and who said that perhaps I should join the priesthood. And I met a priest in St. Paul who encouraged me to attend the seminary."

He also has praise for Father Lauren, "who helped me tremendously in building the parish," and his successor St. Mary's pastor, Father Sylvester Mick, with whom he has been associated for 15 years. "I think very highly of Father Sylvester, and we worked excellently together," he notes.

What are the accomplishments during his 38 years at St. Mary's?

Father Engelbert was satisfied with the reconciling of various ethnic groups and their loyalty to the church and school. He cites as a helpful factor the elimination of school tuition.

The unique domed church and a new rectory and convent all constructed while he was pastor.

The former church was converted into a hall for parish celebrations, activities and meetings.

Three-day annual picnics were initiated and groups that started included St. Ann's Society, St. Mary's Holy Name Boosters, Boy Scout and Girl Scout units, boys' and girls' softball teams and St. Mary's PTA, the latter playing a big role in aiding the school.

Before he came to Madison, the only active society was the St. Vincent dePaul group.

"The bishop gave me the right to buy any property we could, and we acquired much surrounding property that the church still owns.

"I am really proud of the modern convent. The nuns were able to move there from the former residence on Greenwood Street in 1965."

What are the disappointments of his 38 years at St. Mary's?

"I'm somewhat worried about the future, especially concerning racial misunderstandings, but I have confidence in the good people of Madison and their leaders' ability to maintain a good community."

"There is a need to demolish some of the older housing and allow a chance for growth and prosperity."

"A big disappointment is that we were not able to build a new school. We also wanted a recreation hall for the children, perhaps a gymnasium style structure."

"We hoped to join the property on both sides of Tenth Street to build a new school. We were willing to give the city some property in exchange, and it would have been an improvement, but the city felt Tenth was vital to traffic movement."

But the positive far outweighs the negative in his reminiscences covering the past half century of service as a pastor.

Father Engelbert voices his parting comments to the parish:

"We at one time had 16 different nationalities in the parish. I hope that the friendly relationship that has developed will continue."

"Madison's strength has always been its nice homes, and it offers good municipal services and low taxes. It is important that the townspeople continue to try to rebuild, with additional homes and a little cleaning up."

"Street Improvements should be continued at their present level. Madison has a good street improvement policy."

"In personal relationships, it is important not to antagonize people. Committees often solve problems; when the problems are serious, committees take them seriously and work toward a solution."

"Patience is a great virtue," he concludes, while conceding with a twinkle in his eye that exceptions to this rule sometimes are justified.

State discouraging use of mercury as hazard

Less than three years ago, there were more than 500 establishments in Illinois, each using 15 or more pounds of mercury a year and discharging at least some of that amount into the state's waters.

Today, the numbers of users, and amounts discharged, have decreased dramatically, and indications are they are still dropping.

Since mercury, once ingested by humans, can cause brain damage—including impaired vision, disturbed gait, paralysis, hallucinations, or even death—the general view among public health officials and environmental specialists is that the less mercury around, the better.

Thomas McGwiggan, of the division of water pollution control's variance section of the EPA, said, in fact, that the "best control method for mercury is not to use it at all." Chief users, he added, are hospitals (particularly hospital labs), research laboratories, schools and industry.

The sharp decrease in numbers both of users and amounts of mercury discharged, indicate both better control measures and a switch away from use of mercury in many cases, McGwiggan said. He cited manufacture of latex paint as an example.

Previously, mercury was added, as a fungicide, to latex paint to offset development of fungus growth in rubber-based paint which would damage the paint after it was applied.

Recently, he said, other fungicides have been found which can do the same job, without the accompanying dangerous use of mercury.

Dr. Byron J. Francis, in the state department of public health, said the chief public danger from mercury-contaminated waters comes from eating fish from such waters.

Verdun Randolph, of the bureau of environmental health in the public health department, said the permissible level of mercury in fish is five parts per million.

His office checks 20 to 40 specimens of fish caught from Illinois water monthly, and finds that all the fish tested fall far below the 5 ppm limit, and appear to be declining even more.

When the EPA began the mercury-user study in May 1971, letters were sent to 3,791 potential users of mercury advising them of the regulations.

Driver injured in Rt. 270 crash
Anthony Swarthout, 19, of Belleville, was seriously injured when his auto apparently left the roadway on Interstate 270 at the Route 203 overpass and struck the guardrail during the weekend.

There were no witnesses to the accident and state troopers said no skid marks were found. Swarthout was semi-conscious and was unable to be interviewed.

He was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital with a large cut to his scalp, cuts to both knees, an apparent fracture of skull and left arm, and bleeding from his left ear.

He was transferred to Firmin Desloge Hospital, St. Louis.

YOUNG WOMAN INJURED
Karla Terry, 22, of 2014 Washington Ave., was injured when her car reportedly struck the rear of an auto. She had injuries to her neck, lower back and abdomen. She was X-rayed at St. Elizabeth Hospital and released.

not respond, while 585 did reply that they used 15 pounds or more a year, and outlined their control methods.

leaving 304 on record as users of mercury.
The number dropped sharply again by last May, when only 842 potential users were found, and 409 of those could be removed from the list.
There were 264 who didn't reply, and only 148 firms or institutions which reported using 15 pounds or more a year. These included 181 schools, 41 hospitals and 211 businesses.

While techniques exist to remove mercury from water supplies, the problems encountered result from small concentrations of mercury in large amounts of water, making the removal of complex and expensive process, McGwiggan said.

Dr. Francis said that methods are also known of combating

Stevenson against defense cost plan

Sen. Adlai E. Stevenson says President Nixon's new $304.4 billion budget wastefully fosters inflation and burdens the taxpayers.

"The President's budget reflects disordered priorities and waste," the Illinois Democrat said. "The average citizen is paying an unfair and increasingly high share of the total tax burden."

Stevenson zeroed in on proposed defense spending for the two-year period ending with fiscal year 1975. He said it is inflationary and will increase by more than 25 per cent.

The President estimated that defense outlays will increase from $79.5 billion in 1974 to $85.8 billion in 1975. He called this an "essential increase" that will require the smallest percentage of the Gross National Product since 1950.

"If the supplemental defense appropriation sought for fiscal '74 is added to the President's budget for '75, defense spending would increase by $20.5 billion in two years, despite withdrawal from Vietnam, a Strategic Arms Limitations agreement and troop withdrawal negotiations in Europe," Stevenson said.

The senator said defense increases contrast sharply with budget cuts for seven of the research institutes of the National Institutes of Health. They would get less money than in 1973.

Stevenson said Congress "must cut the fat" from the budget "to control inflation, develop adequate energy and transportation resources and provide educational and health facilities without increased taxes."

St. Mary's to honor Rev. Bienek

St. Ann's Altar Society of St. Mary's Catholic Church in Madison opened the new year by reviewing plans for the golden jubilee celebration to honor the Rev. Engelbert Bienek.

The Rev. Sylvester Micek reported the celebration will take place Sunday. The event includes a Mass at the church at 3 p.m., followed by a dinner at 5 o'clock at the Croatian Home, Tenth Street and Madison Avenue.

Highlighting the initial meeting of 1974 was the installation of new officers. Those installed were Alda Yurko, president; Lee Krpan, vice-president; Mary Ann Bunk, secretary; Vada Krajnovich, treasurer; and Mary Krajnovich, chaplain.

Mrs. Josephine Knezevich, the retiring president, was in charge of the business session. Mrs. Helen Harshany was the recipient of a white elephant prize, and refreshments were served by the new officers.

Mrs. Elsie Kmetz, Mrs. Ann Kwiatkowski, Mrs. Ann Loftus and Mrs. Mary Lahey, were asked to serve as hostesses in March.

Also present were Eva Barry, Francha Trotts, Bernadine Brinza, Cecelia Spinks, Mildred Shifter, Helen Huckla, Del Miller, Ella Crnkovich, Mary Melchic and Helen Romanic.

Pack 7 derby

Cub Scout Pack Seven of St. Joseph's Church met with Cubmaster Andy Timko and welcomed a new member, Jimmy Fuhman of Den Two.

A "pinewood derby" was held and judges were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hill. In speed competition, first place went to Jimmy Fuhman and second to Joey DeShon. Best design award went to Tim Buentje. A ribbon was presented to all other participants.

Two Webelos, Jim Kukarola and Parry Perdue, were presented citizen badges by Mrs. Clare Mungovan. Den One had opened the meeting with a flag ceremony and Den Two presented the closing, spotlighting the American flag, with all cubs and guests singing "America."

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Joyce Hooks and Mrs. George Kukarola.

Attending were Mr. and Mrs. Ray Buentje, Don Schutzenhofer, Rich Kienle, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Woods, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hill, Mr. and Mrs. Kukarola, Mrs. Wilma DeShon, Mrs. Carolyn Curtis, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Fuhman, Bill Voss, Mrs. Karen Smith, Jim Perdue, Mrs. Paulette Patterson, Miss Cathy Cornelison, Miss Sherri Fuhman and Mrs. Louise Pavier.

Literary Club talks of drugs

The Madison Literary Club met during the weekend in the home of Mrs. Walter Cook. After a business meeting, Mrs. Marion Fogle reported on a reciprocity tea given by the Edwardsville Monday Club, attended by several local club members.

Mrs. Nevena Kacaleff gave a talk on the use of drugs, which prompted a discussion on the subject from a local level.

Members of the club honored Mrs. Mary Connole, who recently celebrated her 90th birthday. The club presented her a corsage made from dollar bills.

Mrs. Connole spoke of her early life in the Oklahoma Territory and her adjustment to life in Illinois. The hostess served refreshments from a decorated table utilizing a valentine theme to the following members:

Members present included Mesdames Gregg, McBrian, Johnson, Deffenbaugh and Thomas. The March meeting will be at the McBrian home.

Musical Sunday at Mount Nebo

Youth groups of Mount Nebo Baptist Church, 800 Jefferson St., Madison, will sponsor a musical extravaganza at 5 p.m. Sunday, featuring the O'Neal Twins and the Interfaith Choir of St. Louis. Other guest artists also will perform.

Admission is free and the public is invited to attend, according to the Rev. Jerome Jackson, pastor, and William Watts, sponsor. Voluntary donations accepted at the music show will enable these youths to attend the National Baptist Youth conference in Portland, Ore., the minister said.

"THANK YOU . . . MRS. LYNCH!"

Below is a letter we received from Mrs. Lynch of Edwardsville. She wrote in response to an editorial and Big Stuffer we put out a couple of weeks ago. Please take a few minutes and read what she had to say . . . we are very proud of it!

January 30, 1974

Tri-City Grocery Co., 1600 State Street, Granite City, Illinois. Mr. S.E. Pershall, Jr.

I am answering your customer letter of January 1974.

I shop for groceries at your St. Louis St. store in Edwardsville. I usually spend between $90 to $120 the first week of every month and then bill in with $40 to $60 of other goods the rest of the month. I LIKE YOUR PRICES!!! I am aware of other prices in Edwardsville, and usually find yours a penny or two under the stores giving "stamps". Thanks for letting me have the savings first hand! Stamps do not mean that much to me.

ALSO, THANKS FOR SUCH A GREAT CREW! I've shopped there long enough that I know everyone by name and I get excellent service (I usually buy my meat from Lee and have yet to get an undesirable cut.) I truly enjoy being served by such a pleasant and capable group. (Sometimes I do not find all of my needs in stock, but if I let Roger or Don know about it, whatever I need is ordered and it is there for me the next time I'm in.)

THANKS AGAIN! Who says supermarkets can't be personal!

Sincerely yours,
Jamie Lynch

Pentecost topic of Peace Circle

Peace Circle of Niedringhaus United Methodist Church met at the home of Misses Mabel Stewart and Katherine Van Order. One guest, Mrs. Irene DeFries, and seven members were present.

Desert was served before the meeting was called to order. Mrs. Emma Schoen, leader, presided. Pledge cards for the coming year were distributed, and hostesses for the remainder of 1974 were assigned.

Information regarding the crusade for the church building fund was given. A school of missions will be held during March, with Peace Circle to assist Sunday evening, March 17, it was reported.

Miss Van Order led the prayer and presented a program on the topic "The Miracle of Pentecost." She showed slides of a painting which depicted Peter delivering a sermon after the Resurrection. Her presentation also included a recording in which the narrator described the painting and its significance.

Mrs. Pearl Albott, 2904 Grand Ave., will serve as hostess at the circle's next meeting.

Coalition of public employees

Three Illinois public employee organizations, representing a combined membership of 100,000, have formed a statewide coalition to pursue programs of mutual interest.

The American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees (AFSCME), AFL-CIO, the Illinois Education Association (IEA) and the Associated Fire Fighters of Illinois (AFFI), AFL-CIO, are the employee organizations.

They have formed the Illinois Coalition of American Public Employees (CAPE) "to provide a vehicle through which they and other public employee organizations may work cooperatively for the mutual benefit of their members."

The organizational agreement was signed by AFSCME Area Director Roger L. Frazier, IEA President Mel Swiedarke and AFFI State President Tom Bestulak.

Objectives are:
To develop common legislative programs; to develop a common organizing effort to organize all public employees; to develop a specific agreement of jurisdiction.

To develop a plan to mutually endorse and elect public officials; to explore the establishment of a common assistance fund and insurance and health trust.

To develop a plan to mutually support locals in crises negotiations situations; to coordinate legal cases in appropriate areas; to coordinate the use of facilities.

A coalition of American public employees was created at the national level last March by officials of the National Education Association, AFSCME and the International Association of Fire Fighters.

The national CAPE organization was the outcome of cooperation between the three organizations during 1971 in opposition to wage-price freeze policies. The organizations subsequently worked closely on legislation, legal action, political action and public relations.

Two other organizations, including the National Treasury Employees Union, have joined the national CAPE. Illinois CAPE officials launched the organization with immediate action to endorse two legislative programs of the national coalition.

They endorsed the national effort to enact HR 877, which would provide collective bargaining at the federal level for public employees, and CAPE's drive to enact amendments to the Hatch Act which limits public employees' rights to political activity.

The Illinois group will be governed by an interim board of directors until a constitution is adopted, no later than July 1. The board includes, in addition to those who signed the agreement, AFSCME District Council Director Neal Bratcher, IEA Executive Director Curt Platt and AFFI State Secretary-Treasurer Ken Dugan.

Crash hurts 2

Robert Chavis Sr., 57, of 111 Carver St., Eagle Park, and William Blakeley, 33, of 203 Carver St., were injured when their autos collided at Harrison Street and Roosevelt Drive in Eagle Park during the weekend. Both were admitted to St. Elizabeth Hospital.

Chavis suffered an injury to his left knee and was semi-conscious after the crash. Blakeley, who lost consciousness in the accident, also was admitted for observation.

Six on SIUC honor listing

Undergraduate students whose grades placed them on the Deans' List at Southern Illinois University at Carbondale for work completed during the fall quarter included six Quad-Cityans.

Deans' List students totaling 3,929, or 24 per cent of the student body, achieved at least a 4.25 grade average on a 5.0 scale while taking 12 hours or more of course work.

The local residents were Alexia C. Cochran, 2730 State St., Dale M. Knezovich, 2344 State St., Jane Alene Moske, 2309 E. 23rd St., Gail Sablin, 12 Mercer Drive, Clarence M. Wallace, Granite City, and Gwendolyn R. Cagle, 2427 Washington Ave.

Urge separation of universities

The Greater East St. Louis Chamber of Commerce Monday evening adopted a resolution supporting a bill prepared by State Sen. Sam M. Vadalabene which would separate Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville from Southern Illinois University at Carbondale.

Delmar E. Valine Sr. is president of the Chamber.

The board of directors asserted that "SIUE was created in response to critical needs for higher education in Illinois' second largest metropolitan area."

"Residents of the area contributed in excess of $500,000 for purchase of the property on which the university is located."

"It is imperative that SIUE maintain the ability to respond to the educational and developmental needs of the area."

"The mission and scope of SIUE are unique and its progress will be measured against the ability to make positive contributions to the urban area in which it is located."

"Because we believe that public institutions should have the proper legislative mandate to respond to the particular needs of the area they serve, we endorse the concept of autonomy for the Edwardsville campus of Southern Illinois University."

Teaching duty for 2 students

Nearly 500 students at Southern Illinois University at Carbondale are engaged in student teaching in an actual classroom situation during the winter quarter.

Included are Jane Alene Moske, 2309 E. 23rd St., assigned to Belleville elementary schools, and Stanley Williams, 1227 Douglas St., Venice, also to the Belleville grade school district.

A full quarter of student teaching under supervision of a classroom teacher and the Professional Education Experiences faculty at SIUC is a degree requirement at the university.

Youth arrested after gas theft

Five youths were seen stealing gasoline from a church bus at United Pentecostal Church, 2450 Pontoon Road, at 12:10 a.m. Tuesday.

They fled when police arrived. A check was made of a car seen leaving the scene and police later arrested Thomas Carney, 17, of 2418 E. 24th St. and charged him with theft.

Four other youths are being sought.

In a separate incident, officials of Tri-City Park Tabernacle, 2501 Clark Ave., reported about 40 gallons of gasoline were stolen from two church buses at that location after the gasoline cap was pried from one bus and the gas siphoned to the gasoline tank was cut on the other bus.

BURGLARY ON IOWA

Items worth about $420 were stolen from the home of Michael Barnes, 2804 Iowa St., it was reported at 3:45 p.m. Monday. A neighbor reported seeing a tall man enter the home by forcing open a basement window. Taken were a jewelry box and jewelry, a watch, camera, tape recorder, electric hot comb, movie camera, projector and screen and $10 worth of meat.

CAR HITS TREES

Richard Coy, 23, of 716 Twenty-ninth Place, was injured when his auto struck two trees in a yard in the 1300 block of West Pontoon Road at 1:50 a.m. Tuesday. Coy said another motorist drove from Briarcliff Drive in front of his auto, causing him to lose control.

Offer bus cards to elderly

Registration is planned at the Granite City Hall, Madison City Hall and Venice Public Library so that senior citizens may obtain bus identification cards. The reduced fare schedule for Bi-State Transit System buses, which went into effect last Nov. 12, includes a 15-cent rate for persons 65 years of age or older upon presentation of acceptable identification. This reduced fare is honored during the off-peak hours of 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. and after 6 p.m. Mondays through Fridays and all hours Saturdays, Sundays and specified holidays.

At present, Medicare cards or other credentials giving evidence of eligibility through age are being accepted on all Bi-State Transit System lines. However, to comply with regulations of the Illinois Department of Transportation, plans are being made through the cooperation of Illinois city officials to issue identification cards to all persons within the various municipalities and townships of Madison, Monroe and St. Clair Counties.

Between now and a date to be announced later, both the new Senior Citizen Identification Cards and Medicare cards will be honored for the reduced fare during the hours they apply. Within a few weeks, a deadline will be set, after which the special identification cards only will be honored.

Below are the locations and hours during which senior citizens may register for transit identification cards in local cities. Plans for registration for Missouri senior citizens will be announced later. It is necessary for senior citizens to apply in person and to bring some proof of age and their Social Security Card.

Registration is planned between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. Monday through Friday at the City Hall, 2000 Edison Ave., Granite City. The Madison City Hall, 1529 Third St., will be the location of bus card registration between 8:30 a.m. and 4 p.m. Wednesdays and Thursdays. The Venice Public Library, 325 Broadway, will be open for registration between noon and 5 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Webster PTA fetes presidents

Four past presidents and the current president of Webster Parent-Teacher Association were honored Monday evening at the unit's "Founder's Day" program at the school.

Those honored and receiving tributes were Mrs. Helen Santiago, Mrs. Jo Ross, Mrs. Mae Lee, Gene Gunderson and the current president, Don Seitzer.

Each was presented a red carnation from a bouquet containing blossoms representing all past executive officers of Webster PTA.

In addition, the name of each past president was inscribed on a large cake which was served during a social hour in the cafeteria. Mrs. Allepe Moore, hospitality chairman, was assisted by Mrs. Mae Lee in arranging the event.

In observance of "Founder's Day," Webster Principal Clyde Lee gave a brief resume of the objectives and purpose of the Parent-Teacher Association and its continuity through national, state, district, area and local level programs.

Webster PTA was organized in 1951, he advised the group. A "Salute to PTA" was presented in a flute duet, "Thanks For the Memories," performed by Karol Lee, a student at Granite City High School South, and Jeane Lewis, who attends North High.

PTA President Seitzer conducted the business session and Mrs. Barbara Schwertman led the pledge of allegiance. Mrs. Sharon Cooper read the PTA Prayer.

GRANITE CITY PRESS-RECORD

Guy Cooper gave a financial report and events at the unit's executive board session were reviewed by Mrs. Marilyn Frith.

Reservations are due Saturday for the annual PTA awards banquet sponsored by the Granite City PTA Area Council. Members were reminded. The year's dinner will take place at Granite City High School North on Thursday evening, Feb. 21.

Seitzer said a letter of appreciation was forwarded to Mrs. Helen Lee for her "successful efforts" in obtaining a one-way traffic flow and restricted parking in the immediate vicinity of Webster School.

PTA views 'Right to Life' film

"Right to Life" was the title of a film shown Monday evening by Mrs. Pat Vitale at a meeting of St. Mary's Parent-Teacher Association at the school. Seventeen parents, three faculty members and guests attended.

Mrs. Beatrice Stenitzer, president, was in charge of the business session and Sister Bernadette led the prayers. A benefit bake sale was planned after each mass on March 2 and March 3 in the church. Mrs. Stenitzer reported that Sister Agnes, a sixth grade teacher, is a patient at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

Congested traffic had become a definite hazard to the safety of youngsters attending the Webster building, the PTA officer explained. A nominating committee to prepare a slate of 1974-75 officers was appointed. Those named were Clyde Lee, Mrs. Ross and Cooper.

The attendance award was presented to William Brooks' fifth grade class for having the largest percentage of parents at the meeting.

Because of the current energy crisis, members voted to discontinue the usual field trips for students and purchase record players for several classrooms.

An excursion to Springfield by sixth grade students, however, will be taken later this spring, it was decided.

Business Women aid Equal Rights cause

With ratification victories in Maine, Montana and Ohio this month, pro-Equal Rights Amendment (ERA) forces have been given a sizeable push. Mrs. Lillian Marzluft, president of the Granite City Business and Professional Women's Club, announced this week.

Only five more states must ratify the amendment before it can become part of the U. S. Constitution, and 18 states are to consider the amendment in 1974 and 1975, Mrs. Marzluft said.

According to Miss Jean McCarrey, president of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, Inc., during the first six months of a national BPW campaign to raise $250,000 to support ERA ratification, a total of $167,560 has been donated by BPW members.

Mrs. Edna Kohlbrecher, legislative chairman for the Granite City club, said the local group has met its goal of $2 per member for the ERA fund and the money has been forwarded to the ERA Central office in Chicago.

Funds contributed by local BPW clubs will be used to develop campaign materials in support of ERA ratification, send speakers to target states, expand activities of ERA coalitions and aid other pro-ratification efforts, Miss McCarrey said.

States which are expected to consider ERA ratification before December 1975, include: Illinois, Alabama, Arizona, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Indiana, Louisiana, Missouri, Mississippi, Nevada, North and South Carolina, North Dakota, Utah, Oklahoma and Virginia.

In addition to the Business and Professional Women's clubs, the ERA is supported by such varied groups as the AFL-CIO, the National Secretaries Association, the American Bar Association, both the Republican and Democratic parties, Church Women United, the Inter-collegiate Association of Women Students, the National Education Association, Common Cause and many others.

The Equal Rights Amendment was passed by the U. S. Congress in March 1972. The amendment provides that sex should not be a factor in determining the legal rights of men and women.

The amendment would take effect two years after its ratification date, giving individual states time to see that their laws conform to the amendment. It applies only to governmental actions, and private relationships between men and women would not be affected.

"Many of the claims that the opponents have made concerning ERA—that it will mandate the drafting of all women for combat positions, for instance—are simply misinformed," Miss McCarrey noted. "Opponents are appealing to people's fears rather than presenting the issue clearly and rationally."

"The BPW fund will be used to bring the facts about equal rights under the law to the voters and to the legislators who represent them. This will be our campaign," she said.

Humorous readings for Hilltoppers

Several readings were given at a meeting Tuesday afternoon of the Hilltoppers Club at St. John United Church of Christ. Those taking part in the program were Mrs. Helen Schaefer, who read "The New Year's Look," and Mrs. Clara Knipping, who gave a humorous reading entitled "Mother Wrote a Serviceman a Letter."

Mrs. Katherine Roman gave a two-part reading, one concerning "The Devil" and the second titled "More Need for Praise for One Another."

The Rev. Carl Eschenbrenner, assistant pastor, offered the opening meditations and the group sang "Before the Cross of Jesus" and "Just As I Am."

Carl Huenken, president, announced a donation of coffee had been received from Mrs. Dessie Knipping. He also reported cards sent to Mrs. Ethel Petri, Mrs. Edna Straub and Mrs. Jessie Schaefer, who are ill, and Mr. and Mrs. Buster Goodwin upon their 50th wedding anniversary. All are Hilltopper members.

After the program, games were played and coffee and cake were served to 27 members by Mrs. Esther Werner, William Schrumpp, Mrs. Freda Flaxbeard and Mrs. Myrtle Landwehrmer. The host and hostesses for the social hour celebrated birthdays recently. Prayer and the song "Til We Meet Again" concluded the activities.

Confer on home rule

Downstate Illinois home rule cities will be represented at a conference Saturday in Springfield at the State Municipal Building. Sponsors are the Illinois Department of Local Government Affairs and the University of Illinois Institute of Government and Public Affairs. Six panels will participate.

Cities of 25,000 or more population automatically have home rule. Counties and smaller municipalities may adopt home rule by an election.

Burditt in spotlight

The annual Madison County Lincoln Day Dinner will be held at 6:30 p.m. Monday, Feb. 25, at the Lewis & Clark Restaurant in East Alton.

In announcing the event, Madison County Republican Chairman Clyde P. Belcher said the principal address will be given by George Burditt, Illinois Republican candidate for U. S. Senator.

Tickets cost $10 per person. Tickets may be purchased from any precinct committeeman or at the office of State Representative Robert J. Walters, 701 Henry St., Alton.

Former State Rep. George Burditt is running in the March 19 primary election.

A lawyer, Burditt is a partner in the firm of Burditt and Calkins, Chicago, and is a specialist in food, drug and cosmetic law. He is chairman of the Food, Drug and Cosmetic Law Committee of the American Bar Association.

Burditt makes his home in Portell of Armdale, North South Wales, Australia; three daughters, Mrs. John (Sheila) Sitch and Mrs. Leo (Elizabeth) Batter, both of Granite City, and Mrs. Wesley (Bernadine) Stewart of High Ridge, Mo.; three half-brothers, Leo and Neil Thebeau of Old Mines, Mo., and Adrian Thebeau of Houston, Tex.; two half-sisters, Mrs. Julia Wallace of Potosi, Mo., and Mrs. Agnes Bennett of St. Louis; 17 grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Funeral services will be held at 10 a.m. Friday in St. Joachim Catholic Church, Old Mines. Burial will be in the Old Mines Cemetery.

LaGrange with his wife, the former Barbara Stenger. They are the parents of four children. The dinner is being sponsored by the Madison County Republican Central Committee.

14% drop in state traffic deaths

Traffic deaths in Illinois during the first month of 1974 showed a decrease of 14 per cent compared with the same month last year, according to provisional reports of the Illinois Department of Transportation and Illinois state police.

January traffic deaths totaled 143 and were the result of 125 accidents. During the same period in 1973, 167 traffic deaths were recorded.

A possible factor decrease is the limited availability of fuel for the motoring public in many areas, causing people to drive less. Many people also are driving at slower speeds on rural roads.

Of the fatalities in January, 1974, single vehicle accidents claimed 66 lives in 62 accidents. This total includes 24 pedestrians killed in 24 accidents, one bicyclist killed in one accident, and one motorcyclist killed in one accident.

Thirty-three drivers or passengers were killed in 29 single motor vehicle accidents, and seven drivers or passengers were killed in seven railroad crossing accidents.

Multiple vehicle accidents accounted for 77 deaths in 63 accidents. There were no accidents involving a motorcycle and another motor vehicle.

There were 12 multiple-fatality accidents: 8 two-deaths, 3 three-deaths and 1 five-deaths accidents.

Fatal traffic accidents were reported in 44 of the 102 counties, including Cook County with 48 deaths and Madison County, with three fatalities.

New signs at First bank

Two new identification signs have been installed at First Granite City National Bank, replacing the old neon signs which had identified the institution for more than 20 years.

The new signs are located adjacent to the bank on Edison Avenue and on 20th Street in the same locations as the old signs.

The signs use the current First Bank logo-type identification in the bank's colors of blue and white.

The 20th Street sign incorporates a lighted time and temperature board, while the Edison Avenue sign features a light-bank message center.

As well as showing bank service messages, the use of the message center is offered to all community and civic organizations to communicate concise messages of general public interest such as special events and other public information.

Such use of the message center is offered as a free public service, and it is hoped the Quad-City communities will avail themselves of the opportunity, bank officials said.

While bank message center signs are not new, the new First Bank message center incorporates certain capabilities developed only in the past year, and the only automatic message sequencer now in general use, it was reported.

The message center is controlled by a computer console having a memory of 2550 characters, one of the largest in current use. This will permit a traveling newscast of approximately ten minutes in duration. Messages are fed to the computer memory through a standard teletype machine and can accept all the characters of that equipment.

In addition, special key combinations of the teletype will reproduce characterizations on the board such as trains, automobiles, stick men, eyes, etc.

Through proper selection of teletype keys, a train can be made up to travel across the board for as long as it often takes actual trains to pass crossing sites in the city, a spokesman remarked.

The console computer includes an automatic message sequencer which is the only one in general use today. The only other one in existence at this time has been used only for display purposes at conventions.

The automatic message sequencer permits the memory core to be filled with messages which are displayed only at predetermined times.

For example, for weekends, the memory can be stored with messages to run at prescribed times through Saturday, stopping at 12 midnight.

The console will then automatically select messages to be displayed on Sunday morning only, and pick up again at 6 a.m. Monday with new messages to be displayed at that time, officials said.

MIAMI FIRM DEVELOPS HEARING AID WITHOUT BATTERIES

If you can hear people talk and can't make out the words clearly, then this may be your answer. An extremely small hearing aid that fits entirely in one ear including its built-in rechargeable power cell is being introduced by a local company. With this new aid you may be able to hear the slightest whisper and your friends will wonder how you hear so perfectly. It is especially good for NERVE DEAFNESS. This type of aid is what people with a hearing loss have been waiting for since hearing aids were invented nothing outside your ear — no wires — no plugs. To acquaint the public with the hearing aid strides in the hearing aid industry, we are giving free actual-size non-operative samples which will be sent on a first come, first serve basis.

Messages can be displayed in several modes or in a combination of modes. Alphabet characters can be shown in either single or double strokes, that is, in either single or double words of lights.

Messages can be shown as single words, or short groups of words, shown in succession. Emphasis can be given certain words or phrases by causing them to flash, or blink, several times.

Messages may be made to travel across the board from right to left, or the traveling message can be made to pause and hold a certain word or phrase before traveling on.

Additional emphasis can be gained by causing certain words to be spelled out one letter at a time. Interest is maintained by proper selection and mixing of the variety of message modes.

The signs are produced by the American Time Co. in their facilities at Garland, Texas.

Wellinghoff to direct supplemental income drive

Jack Wellinghoff, Belleville, has been appointed director for Supplemental Security Income Alert in an area that includes the southern part of Madison County below Interstate 270, it was announced by the St. Louis Bi-State Chapter of American National Red Cross and the Social Security Administration of St. Clair County.

In addition to part of Madison County, Wellinghoff's district will include St. Clair, Clinton, Washington and Monroe Counties.

The purpose of the Alert is to locate elderly, blind, and disabled persons who may be eligible for extra income under the new Supplemental Security Income Program, but who may not be aware that they are included.

At the request of the federal government, Red Cross, in cooperation with local branches of other national organizations, will seek those eligible for financial benefits for referral to the appropriate Social Security office for determination of eligibility for supplemental income.

The search will be carried out by volunteers recruited and coordinated by Wellinghoff. Volunteers will contact individuals and groups through which the elderly, blind and disabled may be reached.

Wellinghoff urges individuals, church groups, civic and fraternal organizations, young adult associations, Junior Chambers of Commerce, and college students to respond to the need for volunteers.

Wellinghoff's headquarters are in the St. Clair County Red Cross Regional Office, 1209 N. 99th St., East St. Louis. The telephone number is 618-397-7715. Assisting Mr. Wellinghoff in SSI-Alert is Mrs. Eileen Albrecht.

Community service is not new to Wellinghoff, who is well known throughout St. Clair County and beyond its environs. He is a former chairman of the St. Clair County Red Cross and former member of the board of directors of the St. Louis Bi-State Chapter, American National Red Cross.

He was a full-time volunteer executive director of the United Fund of Belleville, 1966-70; a former representative in the Illinois State Legislature; and commissioner of the St. Clair County Housing Authority. He was president of the former Belleville-St. Louis Coach Company until it was succeeded by the St. Louis Bi-State Transit Co., when he became assistant operating manager, a position from which he retired in 1966.

Wellinghoff has been a director of the Belleville National Savings Bank since 1957.

He said he is particularly interested in helping the four and one-half counties under his direction for SSI-Alert. The success of the program depends upon local participation.

More emphasis on pupils' food

A hungry child cannot possibly learn. And chances are, if he has been nutritionally deprived from birth, he may never achieve his maximum potential development because of brain damage or retarded growth.

That's the consensus of the panel which studied the area of pupil services while updating "Action Goals for the Seventies," a document released by the Office of the Superintendent of Public Instruction.

The OSPI has been working to make sure that each child who attends a public school receives at least one balanced meal, whether he can afford it or not. And the burden has become a little lighter with a recent assist from the federal government. The OSPI has been working to make sure that each child who attends a public school receives at least one balanced meal, whether he can afford it or not. And the burden has become a little lighter with a recent assist from the federal government.

"We are now receiving 10 cents per each Type A meal served in schools which participate in the National School Lunch Program," Jim Burke, assistant director of school food services for OSPI, reports. "The previous rate was eight cents per meal."

In addition, for each free lunch served the school will receive 45 cents from federal funds and 15 cents from state funds.

Free lunches are served to members of families whose total income does not exceed $3,310 per year.

Children may also receive reduced price meals (20 cents or less for lunch) if the 4-member family's income does not exceed $6,380. The federal government will reimburse the school 35 cents for these meals.

The federal edict also provides for the reimbursement rates, which are retroactive to July 1, 1973, to increase as the cost of living increases. They will be determined by statistics supplied by the Bureau of Labor Statistics.

In addition, the donated commodities program has been changed to include a possible cash refund.

Under this program, the federal government distributes commodities such as meat, fruits, vegetables, etc., worth seven cents per Type A meal served. Under the new bill, if the commodities do not average out to seven cents per meal, the balance may be collected in cash.

"In the past, if the schools couldn't get seven cents worth, they took what they could and made up the difference themselves," Bob Ohlsen, school food services director, says.

Just over 4,000 Illinois schools participate in the National School Lunch Program. One of the criteria for application to the program is that the school must be able to provide food service to every child who attends the school.

"Many times this is not possible," said Burke. "For example, some schools don't have space for a kitchen and others may not be able to afford it."

A Type A meal is one which nutritionists feel meets one-half to one-third of a child's minimum daily nutrition requirements. This means it must include two ounces of protein-rich foodstuffs, six ounces of fruits, vegetables or a combination of these, a slice of bread or serving rolls, a teaspoon of butter or enriched margarine and a half pint of whole milk.

Hartigan, Price confer on airport, coal plant

La. Gov. Neil F. Hartigan and Rep. Melvin Price have conferred in Washington on two federal projects for Illinois, one in limbo and the other a proposal.

After lunch in the House dining room, they emerged to talk about the $354 million St. Louis regional airport project and a proposed coal conversion facility.

A decision on the airport and whether it is to be situated in Illinois or Missouri was described as long overdue. The energy crisis has clouded its outlook while giving impetus to the coal development proposal. Price, a veteran Democrat and second-ranking Illinoisan in the House delegation, said the airport project is still pending in the Department of Transportation and that he hopes "to expedite it."

"The only thing we can do is continue talking with officials," he said. Price said the Federal Aviation Administration has made his recommendations.

Chairman of the Joint Committee on Atomic Energy, Price said he has urged Energy Secretary William Simon to push "coal gasification and coal liquefaction on a crash basis" and that Simon appears willing to give such research and development "the highest priority."

Price said he and the delegation will try to get the coal plants built in Illinois. Dr. Dixie Lee Ray, chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, has study for a coal resources center under way at Oak Ridge, Tenn., Price disclosed.

He said suggestions have been made in his committee to seek a supplemental appropriation to begin hiring the nucleus of a scientific and technical staff to speed up the proposal.

Hartigan said his "main point" in the discussion with Price was to coordinate state efforts with those of the Illinois congressional delegation in pushing for the regional airport.

Hartigan was in Washington last April with Illinois Atty. Gen. William J. Scott on the same mission. At that time, Sen. Charles H. Percy, R-Ill., disclosed "absolute assurance" from the FAA that all technical studies support a southwestern Illinois location in the area of Columbia and Waterloo.

Percy reports the FAA sent its recommendations to Transportation Secretary Claude Brinegar, who has returned them for an "energy study."

A direct outgrowth of the fuel crisis, an energy study would determine the impact of the crisis and whether the project should go ahead or be postponed pending a clearer perspective on the depth and duration of the fuel shortage.

Discussing coal research, Hartigan said Illinois is making a strong bid for the coal gasification and liquefaction facility.

One plant alone, he said, could take an input of 10 percent of the state's coal, and would supply a large part of current energy needs.

Certified as technician

Frank Rodgers III, formerly of Granite City, has been awarded certification as a biomedical equipment technician by the National Association for the Advancement of Medical Instrumentation.

He recently was informed that the board of examiners for BMET certification has reviewed his qualifications and examination results. "After close review of your experience, references and examination scores, your competence as a BMET has been clearly established," Rodgers was informed in a letter from AAMI.

Rodgers has accepted a position as senior technical medical equipment repairer at Columbia Veterans Administration Hospital, Columbia, S.C.

Rodgers and his wife visited with his parents here while enroute from their former home in Denver, Colo., to South Carolina. He is a 1963 graduate of Granite City High School and the son of Frank Rodgers Jr., 307 E. 23rd St., and Mrs. Edith Rodgers, 2515 Lincoln Ave.

Scout camp enrollment begins

Members of 18 Scout Troops in the Uniwah (Quad-Cities) District of the Cahokia Mound Scout Council have signed up to attend Camp Sunnen, near Potosi, Mo., for at least a week next summer as part of their year-round camping program.

W. F. "Mick" Strange, district camping chairman, estimates that more than 600 Scouts from this area will attend the summer training camp operated by the council.

"Members of the district camping committee have been meeting with troop committees and will take part in troop parents' nights in February," Strange said. Teams from the Cahokia Lodge, Order of the Arrow, a brotherhood of Scout honor campers, also will take part in special troop meetings and show slides of the flexible facilities and program at the camp.

"It's the plans that a troop makes during the winter months along with the regular weekend camping and hiking that prove that Scout camping is as old as Scouting and as new as tomorrow," Strange commented.

Scout camping gives a boy opportunities to develop leadership skills, to take part in relevant advancement activities to become involved in decision making; to acquire desirable personality traits; and improve in the areas of physical, mental, moral and emotional fitness, Strange said.

Camp staff members returning this summer from the area are J. Richard Hooks, camp director; Mike Bilbrey, program director; Phil Daniels, aquatic director; Jeff Tolliver, service director; and Bob Dixon, commissary director, all of Venice.

Staff members from Granite City returning are: Mrs. Genevieve Hellrich, RN health officer; Larry Todoroff, assistant camp director; Randy Aftoller, trading post director; Kevin Kearns, administrative services assistant; Brad Cowan, assistant aquatic director; and Chris Spahn, aquatic staff.

Camp Sunnen is in the 21st year of operation. Strange was program director at the camp when it opened in the summer of 1953.

Citizens to hear candidates

The Ad-Hoc Citizens' Committee of the Edwardsville District state candidates and Gov. Daniel Walker have been invited to attend.

The public will be invited to question the candidates. About 25 area citizens' groups have been invited to participate.

Likely growth of third SIU administrative staff concerns taxpayers

As this was being written, the expectation was that Chairman Ivan Elliott would be re-elected by Southern Illinois University trustees at their meeting today at SIUE.

He also may have the votes to maintain the administrative structure adopted a month ago subject to three months of study and comment by involved parties. It empowers Chief of Board Staff James Brown to interpret Board of Trustees wishes to SIUE President John Rendleman and SIUC President David Derge.

Many in this region and in the Carbondale area think the two campuses should be separate institutions linked by the board and by a minimum-size clerical staff. Some people favor two entirely separate boards, and legislation to accomplish this is pending in the General Assembly.

Mr. Elliott in an interview has characterized the governing issue as "Avis-Hertz" rivalry in which Edwardsville, No. 2, is jealous of Carbondale, No. 1, in size and seniority.

There is considerable doubt that he has accurately summarized the concern. It is not a matter of which of two parties is biggest, but of whether taxpayers can or should afford three administrations.

Already the biggest and costliest "systems staff" among all public universities in Illinois, the SIU governing layer headed by Dr. Brown can only grow larger and more expensive with the increased role it has been spelled out for it by the board.

A President of some note, Mr. Lincoln, once said that a house divided against itself will fall.

The three administrations—two universities plan currently envisaged by SIU trustees—inevitably must fall because of its divisive nature. The "middlemen" are unlikely to remain static but will either shrink or grow in scope and power.

Terrorism by individuals in California and by the Soviet government

Two instances of terror tactics were being implemented this week as a "liberation army" warred against "the ruling class" by holding a 19-year-old California girl prisoner, and as Soviet authorities jailed author Alexander Solzhenitsyn for publishing his book on Russian imprisonment of that government's suspected political exiles.

A later report indicated that the author was being expelled and sent to West Germany, an escape to freedom still denied by the Communists to countless of his fellow citizens.

The Soviet regime is believed to have killed and imprisoned many millions of Russians over a period of several decades.

In the United States, the kidnappers of the newspaper fortune heiress were threatening to kill her and were demanding $70 worth of food for each of several million poor people, many of whom properly responded that they would accept no gain from "blood money."

With such examples of oppression continuing to occur, it is abundantly clear that the price of freedom remains high—eternal vigilance, and sometimes even a tragically higher price than that.

Steiger bill on land use preferable to Udall Congressional proposal

It is being widely predicted that Congress will pass a land use bill. If so, there seems to be ample reason to prefer H.R. 11325 (Steiger) to H.R. 10294 (Udall). House floor action may occur as early as Feb. 20.

On property rights, the Udall bill opens the way to total control without compensation. It provides for non-use in "areas of critical environmental concern," and the definition of such areas is open-ended.

If the state or a designated land use authority desired "open space," the owner could be barred from developing property for any use whatever.

Udall also virtually ignores the value of beneficial economic development, the issue of managing energy needs, and such factors as developing natural resources or feeding and housing people. The Steiger bill would permit individual states to chart a balance between economy and ecology.

The Udall bill would dictate to states extensive guidelines, suggestions and requirements. It would define most projects as having regional implications—removing decision-making from local officials.

Also proposed are sanctions to block unrelated federal funds—as much as 21 percent of states' annual highway, airport and land and water conservation funds.

The Steiger proposal, which would give states a voice in the range and content of these plans, provides $40 million annually for four years, an expenditure only one-fifth as large as the Udall bill's $100 million yearly for eight years.

Levee appointments would expand impact on politics

Collinsville Herald—The East Side Levee District is notorious. Padded payrolls, extravagance, favoritism on contracts and poor bidding practices are some of the charges leveled at it from time to time. A number of its board members have been indicted.

As far back as the Stratton administration, Republican Rep. Ralph Smith introduced a bill to have the governor appoint the board.

Since the board was Democratic and Stratton was Republican, this smacked too much of politics.

Rep. Celeste Stiehl, a Republican, introduced a similar bill, and she could not be accused of political insincerity. Gov. Walker is a Democrat. It didn't pass.

Quad-Cities interests got a bill passed, only to be declared unconstitutional, to split the district at the county line.

The reasoning behind each of these moves was simple: the board as now elected is beyond redemption.

Therefore, some new political structure has to be devised to cure this.

Now Rep. Monroe Flinn has come up with a bill to have three members of the board appointed by one county chairman.

Flinn bill really doesn't attempt to cure the problems of democracy by abandoning election and seeking appointment by a higher authority.

We hate to concede that democracy is a failure.

We hate to concede that a hundred thousand voters can't clean up their own mess, that they can be preyed into throwing the rascals out.

Outside of changing the method of selecting the board, levees and other works, same bonding power, same equipment, same police power, same authority to build sewers, levees and other works, same power to force railroads to elevate their tracks.

The board will still be five men. Their selection will be different and their terms, after the initial staggering process, will be five years, one term expiring each year. But it will still be five men.

The theory is that their selection by the county board chairman will somehow produce better qualified, more honorable, more conscientious, more diligent board members.

The theory is that all it really takes to straighten out the levee district is five dedicated, competent board members with king-sized consciences. That we can buy. We believe it.

The question is whether a board selected three members by organization politician Francis Touchette and two members by organization politician Nelson Hagnauer, will want to operate any better than the board elected by voters whose votes are to a considerable extent already manipulated by Francis and Nelson and their associates.

The question is whether a truly reform board can arrive any quicker by appointment than by election. We are pessimistic about it.

There is no question that people not now affected by the levee district mess will be materially affected by the

Energy czar prolonging crisis

Wall Street Journal—Gulf Oil Company's suit against the Federal Energy Commission is more significant than it appears on the surface.

Gulf claims that the crude-allocation program instituted by energy czar William Simon is "confiscatory," and this is no small point.

But the more immediate significance of the suit is that it could keep Mr. Simon from prolonging the energy crisis. With the crude-allocation program, Mr. Simon's whiz kids have figured out a way to drive refinery utilization in the U.S. down to 76 percent.

The Arabs must be jealous, and those in the oil industry who are not.

Economist Alan Greenspan writes, "A different type of oil crisis may be upon us, but one originated from Washington, not the Persian Gulf."

Petroleum Intelligence Weekly estimates that Mr. Simon's new moves will cause shortages of oil in the United States during the three months' ending April 30.

Why? Because while the program makes life easier for the whiz kids, it is loaded with economic disincentives to find and import more crude oil.

Briefly, the companies that have the oil have to give it up with almost no profit; it is, as Gulf would say, confiscated.

The companies that do not have the oil do not have to go out and buy it; Mr. Simon will make Gulf give it to them at bargain prices.

So, neither those who have oil nor those who don't have as much reason to look for more. It all happened this way: The whiz kids decided they wanted to even out the supply of crude to the nation's refineries, so it would be easier for them to allocate the refined products to the states.

So it asked each refinery company to make a schedule of its crude supply and what its capacity utilization rate would be.

When it had these numbers in hand, the whiz kids simply took from the rich and gave to the poor, so that every refinery in the land could operate closer to 76 percent of capacity during the three months, 76 percent.

Under the formula, Gulf has to give up 11.9 million barrels of crude to a pool of net buyers in California, Texas, Atlantic Richfield, Getty and a host of little independents.

The most direct, although not the largest, cost of this scheme results from the innocence of the whiz kids in refusing to pay for the oil a refinery is a refinery.

Many of the smaller beneficiaries of the program must make life easier for the whiz kids, and either can't make gasoline or do so at such inefficiencies that much of the crude simply wastes.

The biggest cost is the indirect one.

The government-controlled price of domestic crude is $5.25 a barrel. New domestic crude and foreign crude can be had for $10.

A company like Gulf has an assured supply of both for the three-month period, which when mixed in the company's supply stream averages to, say, $7 a barrel.

Because this crude supply is higher than the industry average, it must sell at a premium to the refineries, to companies like Snake Oil Co., which has forecast that its supply will permit it to run at 76 percent of capacity.

Snake pays Gulf $7 a barrel, and will be a little less anxious than otherwise to bring in foreign oil at $10.

Theoretically it should make no difference whether Snake pays $10 a barrel or $7 a barrel, for its selling prices are controlled to reflect these costs.

But in fact the prices are only adjusted every 30 days. So for 30 days, Snake gets to buy the oil at $7 a barrel and sell it at a price based on costs of $10 a barrel.

Even if not one drop of oil were leaking through the embargo, it's inconceivable that U.S. refineries should be running at only 76 percent.

There is a few years ago shortage in the world, the Arab prices are already showing softness, and product supplies adequate in most European nations.

But the U.S. may end up with rationing even after the Arab crisis is past.

For all we know, Mr. Simon is well aware of all this, but his hands are tied by Congress.

Congressional mandate for the crude-allocation program.

His best bet is to sit back and let OPEC and the courts save him, and the rest of us, from this latest bit of price-control folly.

To the Editor:

I am aware of the many problems that plague Madison County and Nameeki Township. I am willing and ready to direct all of my energy, attention and devotion toward reaching a solution to these problems.

Through the cooperation of responsible and dedicated citizens, these problems can and must be solved. There is no other way to solve our problems except by working together.

1. Water drainage and sewage disposal have been a big problem within our area for many years and can be solved without every governing body within this large area getting involved and cooperating.

Granite City cannot solve its problem unless Nameeki Township, and other small and large areas around it, at the same time relieved of their water problems.

2. It is time that we have a fair and equitable tax applied to all property owners of the entire county in the same fashion.

3. There are too many unlawful and unwanted dogs running loose in the streets and Nameeki Township.

4. There are many streets that are being used for dog runs, with cars running stop signs and exceeding the speed limit.

Our children need playgrounds and play areas; at present the streets are full of children playing. Some of the streets are full of holes.

5. There are old abandoned houses in bad condition; they are being renovated or demolished.

6. There are new houses in some areas that were vacant and subsequently became the prey of vandals and then had their windows boarded up. This should not be allowed. This is the beginning of ghettos.

7. Trash, debris and throwaways are piling up in different areas. Environmental protection and health laws should be enforced in these cases.

8. We need to encourage a recreation center within Nameeki Township that would be staffed and have organized activities for different age groups, with a large assembly room, office rental space, a library and a cultural and creative arts center.

10. I am sure there are many other problems too numerous to mention, but when they are called to my attention, I will work toward solving them.

I can understand why people are fed up with politics. Some of us are fed up because of this feeling.

I, too, am fed up with politics as we have tried to solve politics through the news media and television. This is a main reason for my entering into the County Board race (Madison District). I feel we cannot sit back and say there is nothing we can do, or that there is no use in trying.

We must seek out the person who has honest dedication and support from individuals. Give him a chance to work for the good of all of us, teaming up with other sincere people.

We must not lose faith in mankind due to the action of a few unscrupulous politicians. This should motivate us to encourage us to be sure and get to the polls and vote.

A lien is defined as a "claim or charge on property for payment of some debt, obligation or duty."

It is a hold or claim which one person (for example: a contractor, subcontractor, supplier) has upon the property of another (for example: you) for some debt or charge for the payment of bills for materials and services.

Let me use an illustration to explain how now getting sworn statements and "waivers of lien" from the contractor and subcontractors can help in making home improvements. That sounds a bit complicated, but I'll try to keep it as simple as possible.

DIFFERENT WHERE IT COUNTS:

MESSAGE COMMUNITY

CATHOLIC SCHOOLS

Serve 1,092 pupils here

One week of Feb. 17-23 has been designated as Catholic Schools Week by C. Albert Koob, president of the National Catholic Educational Association.

This year's theme is, "Different, Where It Counts: Message, Community, Service."

He explains, "The educational mission of the church includes the message revealed by God, community in the life of the Holy Spirit, and service to the Christian and the human community."

"The church has every reason to be proud of its quality education and wishes the nation to rejoice and to share in this pride."

It is in this spirit that the five Catholic schools of the Quad-Cities with 20 Sisters, 45 lay teachers and 1,092 students are asking the general public to participate, a local spokesman said today.

The spokesman added: "The integration of religious truth and values with life is brought about in the Catholic school not only by its unique curriculum but also by the presence of teachers who express an integrated approach to learning and living in their private and professional lives."

"Doctrine is not merely a matter for the intellect but is the basis for a way of life."

"Christian education is intended to make men's life become living, conscious, and active through the light of instruction."

"The Catholic school is the unique setting within which a faith community can be realized, since all those involved earnestly desire to reach this ideal."

"Building this faith community is an especially critical need today because natural communities of the past have been weakened."

"By service to the community and a value-oriented education, private schools have helped to build a better America."

"Since education for basic skills is based on an education for values, the good of society depends upon an education which inculcates a value system."

"The commitment to Christian values and the Christian moral code renders a profound service to society which depends on spiritual values and good moral conduct for its survival."

The spokesman continued, "Private schools keep alive the rights of Americans to freedom of choice in education. Religiously committed American parents do not wish to see their children subjected to secular schooling in which prayer is silenced and in which the Ten Commandments as God's word may not be taught."

"If there were no private schools, an alternative to public education would have to be found to promote healthy competition."

"Private schools exercise leadership in education, are free to choose innovative programs, and endeavor to maintain a high scholastic standard."

"The Quad-Cities are fortunate to have five Catholic schools financed exclusively through the generous contributions of parishioners or through other parish projects."

"Catholic schools also carry the gospel of Christ to children in public schools."

"They sponsor scouting programs in the schools for both Catholics and non-Catholics. They conduct a sports program in which Catholic schools of the area compete with each other."

"The teachers, after obtaining degrees at private or state universities, continue their education with institutes and in-service workshops."

"The underlying philosophy of all Catholic schools is to train the whole child—intellectually, physically, socially, emotionally and spiritually."

LARGE MULTI-PURPOSE ROOM at St. Joseph School can be used for square dancing, audio-visual work and special activities.

BEGINNING THE DAY with a prayer to God. This group includes first and second graders at St. Joseph School in Granite City.

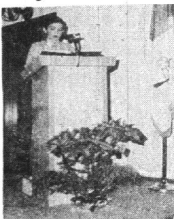

READING HOUSE for grades 1 and 2 at St. Joseph. Created from a cardboard box, it is a place where pupils may read aloud to each other.

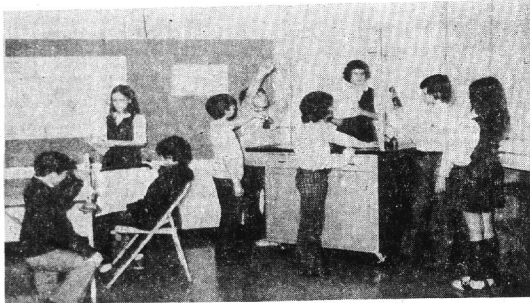

READING MACHINE. Sacred Heart pupils improve their reading skills by using a machine designed to increase reading speed and comprehension.

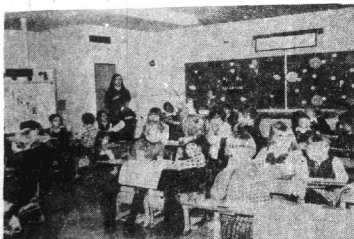

RESONATOR BELLS. These students at Sacred Heart School say it is fun to play the bells during their music class.

PUBLIC SPEAKING has been offered to 5th - 8th grade St. Elizabeth boys for four years and Jason Kieffer (pictured) has participated throughout that time. This year, 48 volunteered to serve as commentators and read Old Testament selections during the daily Eucharistic celebration at a school assembly.

SCIENCE LABORATORY of St. Elizabeth School where sixth graders are attempting to verify "underlying principles of machines and work."

NEWSPAPER AS A TEXTBOOK is used by these St. Elizabeth children, who find it a stimulating way to learn all school subjects. It is called better than a textbook because it is "up-to-date, ever-changing and alive."

ST. ELIZABETH LIBRARY contains not only books, reference volumes and other printed materials but also films, records, audio tapes in reels and cassettes, photo slides and other learning aids. Volunteer librarians assist pupils.

Young adults explore many special interests

Meeting the needs of youth has been a long-time objective of the Boy Scouts of America which is celebrating its 64th anniversary during February. Now there is a concern for the needs of young adults as well.

Tailored to the interest of young adults of high school age, the Exploring program offers opportunities to take part in special interest such as law enforcement, health fields, science, banking, automotive repair and acting, to name a few.

Although it's a part of the Boy Scouts of America, Exploring is separate from the program for younger boys, according to David Wilson, program chairman for the Cahokia Mount Council.

"We feel it is important that young adults have an opportunity to explore career interests. The best way is through groups to meet with experts in a particular field," Wilson explained.

Career interest Explorer posts in the Quad-Cities are: auto racing, Post 2, sponsored by Grant City, contact Max Boyd, 344-8164; computers, Post

Building of nuclear reactors urged

Rep. Melvin Price's Joint Committee on Atomic Energy has begun hearings on the development, growth and state of the nuclear industry.

Witnesses included the chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, two AEC commissioners, representatives of industry and Federal Energy Office Administrator William Simon.

All witnesses reaffirmed the importance of nuclear power in meeting the nation's energy needs for both the near and long term.

The committee heard testimony on some of the problems hindering development of nuclear power, including lack of standardization in nuclear facilities and the extended time required for licensing and building of nuclear plants.

Energy Chief Simon urged that the highest priority be given to near-term solutions of the energy shortage, a position Chairman Price has taken for some time. Simon said that among the most practical near-term solutions is construction of additional nuclear reactors.

Foley named district Scout finance chairman

James Foley, auditor of the First National Bank in Madison and past president of the Madison and Bond County Bankers Association, has accepted the position as chairman of the Uniwah (Quad-Cities) District Scout Finance committee. It was announced today by Dr. Thomas Layloff, district chairman.

Foley is a native of Venice and was a member of Troop 1 as a boy. He later was Scoutmaster of Troop 1 which is sponsored by the Venice Lions Club. As a youth he was one of the first Scouts to attend Camp Sunken during the first week it opened in June 1953.

Dr. Layloff also announced that Ed Edwards, owner of Commercial Office Products, has accepted the position as the district special membership enrollment chairman to assist in raising funds to support the expanding Boy Scout program in this area.

At the Uniwah district meeting in Tempel's Smorgasbord, Ted Scrum, chairman of the Scout First Aid meet scheduled for Saturday afternoon, Feb. 23 at the Granite City Army installation, announced that the committee now is recruiting judges for the event and that the Jaycees have volunteered to help.

Mrs. Patricia Foote, district Cub Scout membership chairman, announced that Pack 24 sponsored by the Russell Johnson School PTA conducted a special recruiting drive and gained 26 new Cub Scouts which brings the Pack's boy membership to 68. Charles Taylor, district Scout training chairman, encouraged members of the district committee to do everything they could to urge Scouters to attend the University of Scouting March 9 at SIUE.

"This event will offer training in all phases of the program of the Boy Scouts of America. A person does not have to spend the whole day, but attend that part of the training that interests you most in the nearly 100 Scouting topics offered," Taylor said.

Cub Scout Training Chairman Floyd Jordan said that everyone connected with Scouting will benefit from the University of Scouting program.

A district camp-o-ree is scheduled May 18, 19 and 20, according to District Camping Chairman W. F. "Mick" Strange. He said unit leaders will be consulted at the Scout Roundtable on Feb. 18 as to the type of events and location.

Strange added that summer camp under the leadership of J. Richard Hooks, camp director, is taking shape. He noted that campsites are filling up fast and there still are some Scoutmasters that have not yet registered their troop for camp.

The program featured musical offerings from modern contemporary to Latin-Rock and a spectrum of style differences between, directed by Robert Todoroff, band director.

A highlight of the concert was the presentation of an engraved plaque to Jack Etzel, a radio promotions director for his composition, "Always Something Special" and "On To Victory," the new Granite High-North school song.

Band President Donna Walton expressed the feelings of band members for their "new school song." Student Body President Janet Morlan addressed the patrons and expressed the warmth generated by the students at North when the school song is sung and played at athletic events and pep rallies.

Gilbert Walmaley, principal, made the presentation and expressed the appreciation of the administration, faculty, students and their parents for the contribution to the spirit of the student body by the school song.

He told the audience that procedures are under way to copyright the song.

After Etzel's response, the members of the Pom-Pom Squad who served during the concert assembled at the podium and led the audience in the singing of the new school song.

"The overwhelming response to this first effort has shown us that the public has enjoyed our efforts. We will certainly incorporate other Pop and Pretzel Concerts in our future seasons," Director Todoroff said.

Many crime victims eligible for state funds

Illinois Attorney General William J. Scott reports the Court of Claims Division of his office is accepting applications for compensation under the Crime Victims Compensation Act.

CVCA became law in Illinois on Oct. 1, 1973. But, said the attorney general, many citizens still are unaware that the act exists.

The purpose is to compensate innocent victims of certain crimes of violence and/or their dependents for unreimbursed medical expenses and loss of earnings or support. Also, it is to compensate those persons or their dependents if they are deceased, who are killed or injured while attempting to assist a victim of a crime of violence, or are killed or injured while assisting a law enforcement official.

Scott said that if a person received injuries as the result of a violent crime after Oct. 1, he may qualify for state compensation.

"But," said Scott, "I must stress the word 'may.' The Crime Victims Compensation Act is a much needed and beneficial law, but as with most laws, it can be complicated. "It also is a new law and open to test in the Illinois Court of Claims, which ultimately determines all awards."

Scott said crimes of violence covered by the CVCA are:

1. Murder.
2. Voluntary manslaughter.
3. Kidnapping.
4. Aggravated kidnapping.
5. Rape.
6. Deviate sexual assault.

7. Indecent liberties with a child.
8. Assault.
9. Aggravated assault.
10. Battery.
11. Aggravated battery.
12. Reckless conduct.
13. Arson.

Scott noted that there are three points to remember if a person feels he may be eligible for compensation under CVCA.

1. The applicant must fully cooperate with law enforcement officials in the apprehension and prosecution of the assault. (However, a victim still may be covered even if the assailant is not apprehended.)

2. No medical expenses or loss of earnings or support already covered by hospitalization insurance, Workman's Compensation Act, local, state or federal government funds, or any other source, will also be covered by funds from the state.
3. And, no expenses amounting to less than $500 will be covered by funds from the state.

Scott said the only losses that may be covered are unreimbursed medical and hospital expenses, unreimbursed loss of present earnings and/or future earnings because of disability (in both cases) and, in case of death, funeral expenses and loss of support to the dependents of the victim (again, up to $500 per month maximum).

Under the CVCA payment is made for pain and suffering, or for loss of property.

"The maximum amount of recovery under any circumstances," said Scott, "is $10,000."

According to the law, an applicant will not be entitled to compensation under the CVCA if:

1. The victim and his assailant are related or sharing the same household.
2. The injury or death of the victim was substantially attributable to his own wrongful act.
3. There was substantial provocation of the assailant by the victim.
4. The applicant has not cooperated fully with law enforcement officials in the apprehension and prosecution of the assailant.

Therefore, said Scott, if one is the victim or dependent of a victim of a violent crime occurring after Oct. 1, 1973, and is eligible for aid, he is urged to contact the attorney general's office at:

Attorney General Wm. J. Scott, Court of Claims Division, 500 S. Second St., Springfield, Ill. 62706 (telephone 217-525-1090).

Cycle hazards cited

As the gasoline shortage stimulates increased use of motorcycles, stronger safety programs will be needed, Michael J. Howlett, secretary of state, said Tuesday. He called the motorcycle the most dangerous vehicle on the road for its riders.

"The death rate per miles traveled is about four times as high for motorcycle riders as for occupants of other motor vehicles," said Howlett.

"Motorcycle fatalities rose from 2,747 to 3,200 last year in the United States. A federal government study of motorcycle accidents in Illinois and Michigan found that 25 percent of them involved cyclists of less than six months' experience.

"More than half involved cyclists of less than two years' experience.

"Because of the gasoline shortage, specialists of the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration expect an increase of 25 per cent in motorcycleists this year.

"Some people will start traveling to work by motorbike because it goes 80 to 100 miles on a gallon of gas, and a new helmet requirement laws which were ruled out by the courts."

"In Illinois, the state Supreme Court held it unconstitutional for an individual to be forced to wear a specific type of clothing for his own protection."

"It is still a good idea to wear a helmet. In the four states which had helmet laws and lost them, the fatal crash rate among motorcycleists decreased 20 per cent while the laws were enforced."

"Nobody should think he can learn to drive a motorcycle quickly because he can ride a bicycle and drive a car."

"For his own safety, as well as the public safety, he should school himself thoroughly before he applies for a license or takes to the road—and then drive carefully forever after."

But it is now legal to drive without a helmet.

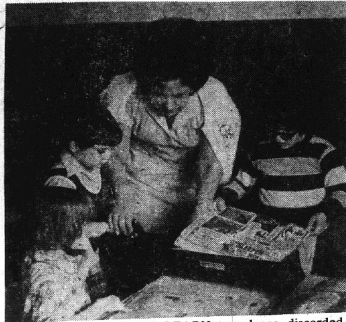

"Illinois, Michigan, Oklahoma and Kansas all had helmet requirement laws which were ruled out by the courts."

"In Illinois, the state Supreme Court held it unconstitutional for an individual to be forced to wear a specific type of clothing for his own protection."

"It is still a good idea to wear a helmet. In the four states which had helmet laws and lost them, the fatal crash rate among motorcycleists decreased 20 per cent while the laws were enforced."

Schools for weekend pleasure

Schools are not normally thought of as the ideal place to spend the weekend, or even as the beauty spot of the neighborhood.

If the Illinois Institute for Environmental Quality can prevail, public schools might soon be the focal point of fun and games on weekends and all summer long, vandalism would decline, people in the neighborhood would start upgrading their property, and schools could save significant sums on drapes, curtains, heat and air conditioning, while helping conserve energy and reduce environmental pollution.

Students would even say "thank you" for things.

The miracle ingredient in all this is the simple, everyday tree—and its associated flora.

and even a little fauna.

In a newly published handbook, "Environmental Education and Your School Site," the IIEQ outlines ways in which use of natural conditions can be put to use to beautify a school site while making it more satisfactory both as a learning and a recreational facility.

Author Donn Paul Welling, drawing on experiences gained in similar programs in Michigan, suggests that planting windbreaks or evergreens on the windward side of schools can reduce wind velocity and thereby lower the amount of heat needed.

In summer, shade trees planted on sunny sides of buildings would provide shade and moisture for greater cooling, while in winter these trees would drop their leaves, permitting extra light and the warmth of the sun to enter the classroom.

Aside from general observations on the advantages of such programs, the book gives four specific case histories, and outlines the ways in which each school overcame its particular problems—and reached a solution best suited to its own needs.

In all cases, the essential ingredient is student, teacher and community involvement and participation.

Planting a tree is, an interesting experience which can enhance the environment, the book notes, but trees must be fed and watered and cared for, and learning that may also be a break-through for some inner city students, at least.

Getting as many people as possible involved reduces vandalism and the cost of maintenance, both since most people are not anxious to damage something which represents their own work, but because others will take pride in the end product and be more willing to report suspected activities before damage can occur.

Illinois residents can obtain copies of the handbook, of which 3,000 were printed, by writing "School Site Handbook—Illinois Institute for Environmental Quality, 309 W. Washington St., Chicago, Ill. 60606."

Others can obtain copies at $3 each from the Open Lands Project, 53 W. Jackson Blvd., Chicago, Ill. 60606. Hardcover copies at $3.50 can be obtained from ERIC Document Reproduction Service, P. O. Drawer O, Bethesda, Md., 20814, which also offers microfiches of the work.

Emergency farm loan benefits are expanded

Farm operators who suffered property or crop losses from severe storms and flooding which caused extensive damage in 51 Illinois counties beginning about March 1, 1973—including Madison County—may qualify for assistance under Public Law 93-277 signed by the President on Jan. 2, 1974.

The law authorizes the Farmers Home Administration to accept applications now through the close of business April 2 for loans to replace or repair farm dwellings and other farm buildings and to restore cropland, fences and other farm property damaged in the disaster.

Loans can also be made for annual operating expenses to those who suffered losses.

Repayment will not be required for a part of the loan equal to the value of the crop or property loss or damage up to $3,000. The remainder of the loan will bear 1 per cent interest.

The new law also removes the requirement that a farmer be unable to obtain sufficient credit elsewhere to qualify for an Emergency loan, according to Wallace S. Keyser, Farmers Home Administration county supervisor.

The forgiveness provision and the 1 per cent interest rate apply only to loans made due to disasters which occurred after Dec. 26, 1972, and before April 20, 1973, but the removal of the test for other credit is effective for disasters when emergency loan authorizations are granted.

Madison, Monroe and St. Clair are among the 51 counties whose farmers may qualify for emergency loans with the forgiveness and interest benefits.

Farmers who received Emergency loans due to the flood disaster last year under a different law will have the increased benefits applied retroactively to their loans.

Applications are being received at the Farmers Home Administration office at the U.S. Department of Agriculture Building, Fairgrounds Road, Nashville, Ill., from farmers in the three counties.

Madison County farmers also may apply at the ASCS office at the USDA Building on Old Alton Road in Edwardsville every Wednesday between 10 a.m. and 12 noon.

March 11 bid call for town hall

Bids for expanding and remodeling the Nameoki Township Hall on Route 162 will be opened by the Town Board of Auditors at 5 p.m. Monday, March 11, preceding a regular meeting.

Specifications for the work now are available to contractors at the town hall.

The work, costing an estimated $40,000 to $45,000, will provide room for a courtroom for use by the Circuit Court. Additional office space also will be provided.

Fifteen building permits listing values of $110,260 have been issued by Granite City, including a permit for a $48,000 prefabricated building at Jenison Wright Corp., 22nd Street and the railroad tracks, and a permit for a new $29,650 Bethel Baptist Church at 2841 Pershing Blvd.

The Jenison Wright building will be 60 feet by 90 feet and is to be built by C. D. Peters Construction Co. of Granite City. The church will be built next to the former Koryak Grocery building which church members have used several years for services. After the new building is completed, the old grocery store building will be demolished, church officials said.

Propane gas price cut back

Illinois Attorney General William J. Scott announced this week that the Federal Energy Office has agreed to roll back prices for propane gas following formal hearings and petitions by Scott and the attorneys general of six other states.

Attorney General Scott also said that Illinois will join in an official investigation into the charges of propane price manipulation which is being launched by the Federal Energy Office.

Today's action by the FEO, resulting from the efforts of Scott and the other Attorneys General, rolls back prices for propane produced after Jan. 31, 1974, to the May 15, 1973, base price plus a proportionate share of increased costs.

Scott said this should result in a substantial drop in the price of propane produced as of Feb. 1, 1974—perhaps more than 30 per cent of current wholesale price.

Attorney General Scott said that the meaningful first step action to provide all the immediate relief necessary to those who rely so heavily on propane.

He said he will continue to press for reduction of excessively priced propane inventories, and that the FEO investigation into the propane pricing abuses, which he is joining, should produce the necessary additional relief for Illinois consumers who must use propane for home heating because they live in rural or suburban areas away from the gas mains.

Illinois consumers total the second largest among the states as users of propane gas for home heating purposes.

Scott praised Arkansas Attorney General Jim Guy Tucker who coordinated the joint efforts of the seven Attorneys General from Illinois, Missouri, Oklahoma, North Carolina, Alabama, Texas, and Arkansas.

He said he will continue to press for reduction of excessively priced propane inventories, and that the FEO investigation into the propane

Shortages hit music world

It seems that no one is going to escape the energy crisis if it's affecting all sorts of industries from rubber gloves to limousines. Nestled in that wide span is the world of music—records and tapes—a $3-billion-a-year business.

But trying to get any information from the larger recording companies is next to impossible.

However, no matter how sensitive the issue, the problems involved with the PVC (polyvinyl chloride) shortage have become evident. Rising prices, the unavailability of back orders, a somewhat limited supply of new artists' records, the five-day work week instead of seven at most pressing plants, and the simplified LP jacket covers—all appear to speak for themselves.

There's just no getting around the fact that vinyl and paper shortages are causing havoc in the industry, although most sources say it's the small independent companies who are feeling the pinch most of all because the larger companies forswear the problem and double ordered on most materials.

In view of the PVC shortage, more and more people are turning to tapes, making it the fastest growing market in the music business today.

"Business is better than ever," according to Shad Helmstetter, national sales manager of consumer products for the Ampex magnetic tape division. "In fact, we are bolstering our production of consumer blank tape products."

As the same time people are buying tapes, pulling their old recorders out of the closet and recording their own LPs, as well as their neighbors', building large space-conserving libraries.

"More people are becoming informed about the important qualities of tape and are shopping for brand names they know meet those standards," he said. "In short, they are willing to pay a little more for a tape they can depend upon to perform well through repeated use."

"Also with gasoline in short supply, trips to visit families and friends are becoming less frequent for many people," he continued. "Long-distance phone calls can fill some of that gap, but once you hang up, it's over."

"By recording a message on tape, the visit can last an hour or more, and the message can be repeated as many times as desired. Later, the party receiving the taped message can erase it, record their own message and send it back—all of that on the same tape."

The energy crisis and its related problems are viewed with cautious optimism, not panic, by Helmstetter. He sees the energy crunch as the potential turning point which will make blank tape and recording and listening one of the most popular forms of American entertainment.

"Recording is not only an entertainment medium, it's a hobby," says Helmstetter. "Inexpensive blank tape and recorders are readily available. They are portable, conserve energy by operating on batteries or a small amount of electrical power and are one of the few products that users can recycle himself—erase the tape and recording again."

So even though the shortage of PVC and paper is hurting the industry in some ways, I think it may help it in others, for companies will be striving for quality performers and sounds instead of quantity.

Many of the major recording companies are doing this same thing, cutting down on their subsidiaries so as to throw most materials and talents under one label.

Seek bids to build new Chouteau garage

The Chouteau Township Board of Auditors will advertise soon for bids to construct a township highway department garage.

At a special meeting, the auditors approved specifications for construction of the building. A statement was made requesting all local contractors to obtain specifications from William Filippo & Associates, 215 Market, Alton, and to bid on the project.

The building is to be constructed with revenue sharing funds on a six-acre site north of Interstate 270 on the access road behind the Midwest Motel. The auditors hope later to construct an adjoining town hall.

Separate bids are to be accepted for building, plumbing, electrical work and electric heating.

A letter was read from U.S. Congressman Melvin Price (D-East St. Louis), informing the board he has been unable to obtain information on the status of the grant application for the proposed four township sewer.

Price said Illinois Environmental Protection Agency recommendations on state funding for all projects have been advanced to the U.S. EPA, but which projects are recommended by either body for funding is not yet known.

The board voted to retain First Granite City National Bank as depository for township funds.

A $85,000 bond was approved for Charles Lexow, township collector. Purchase of their insurance for township funds handled by Lexow also was approved.

Army offers job promotions

Under a new Army enlistment program called "Stripes for Skills," applicants with at least two years of civilian training and experience in one of the program's 165 specified job categories can enlist at an advanced rank and pay grade and will be considered for possible promotion after only eight weeks on the job.

Monetary women who qualify can enter the Army at pay grade E-3, private first class, at a starting salary of $377 a month, less deductions. Meals, housing, medical care, a month's paid vacation and other Army benefits are also provided.

Upon successful completion of the eight-week basic training course, an applicant in this program is assigned to the selected job category. Eight weeks after work assignment, an individual's demonstrated skills and job performance are evaluated and he or she can at that time be promoted up to an E-5, Specialist, at $408 a month.

X-ray technician, surveyor, dental assistant, teleoperator equipment repairman and occupational therapist are only a few of the job categories included in the Stripes for Skills program. A complete listing of all the jobs and additional information about the program are available from Sgt. Tom Sparks, Sgt. John Keane or Sgt. Dave Wilson by calling 876-9550 or at 1206 Niedringhaus Avenue.

The Illinois Education Association has announced that it has endorsed Dan O'Neill, Democratic candidate for representative in the General Assembly for the 56th District, which includes the Quad-City Area.

The announcement was made by Joe Symanski, the 56th district chairman of IPACE, the Illinois Political Action Committee for Education. This group is the political arm of the teachers in the area.

In a field of 11, O'Neill was endorsed along with Horace Calvo by IPACE. Calvo, of Granite City, is an incumbent Democratic representative.

Teachers endorse O'Neill

O'Neill, who served in the Illinois House in 1965-66, left after one term to complete law school. He is seeking the seat being vacated by the retirement of State Rep. Leland J. Kennedy (D-Alton).

"I am really gratified by the confidence the teachers in my district have shown in me," O'Neill said. "Quality education is essential to improving the standard of living in Illinois and I intend to work toward that goal."
